DOINGS OF ONEIDA COUNTY BOARD

Apportionment of Taxes Is Made For Various Towns And City

The following men were re-appointed:

Co. physician, Dr. H. L. Garner; Poor Commissioner, Peter Doyle; F. E. Parker was appointed highway commissioner for 3 years at a salary of $600 per annum. The salary of the County Supt. of schools was raised from $1000 to $1200, and the County Agricultural Representative to $2000, the state paying half of the latter.

Appropriations were made of $900 to the Oneida County Agricultural Society, $500 to the Soldiers' Relief fund, and $200 to the children's Home Society. The salary of Municipal Judge Ames of Minocqua was set at $800 beginning Jan. 1st, in lieu of the former salary and fees.

The statistical report of the assessors of incomes was refused publication on the ground that it had been received too late to be of value to the board.

A committee, consisting of B. N. Moran, E. W. Knapp and Henry Wubker was appointed to confer with like committees from other northern counties as to plans for securing relief from the encroachments of the state forestry service.

The new Training school board is to be composed of A. W. Brown, who was re-elected, E. W. Knapp, and the Co. Supt. ex-officio. Adjournment was taken to Jan. 15th.

The County board concluded its annual meeting on Saturday.

The most important matter to be settled was the apportionment of the valuation of the city and the various towns for purposes of taxation.

The matter was finally adjusted by giving the city of Rhinelander an increase of 1 1/2 percent, making the city's share 43 1/2 as opposed to 41 last year. Woodboro also received an increase of 1/4.

Hazelnut was reduced 3-46 and Enterprise, Newbold, Schoepke and Three Lakes were also reduced each 1/4. A levy of $53,000 was made for the ensuing year, as opposed to $60,000 last year.

PREPARE FOR RUSH

Government postal officials are getting ready for the Christmas and holiday rush of mail and one of the first orders affecting the service has been issued from Washington. Postmasters are notified that from Dec. 20 to Jan. 3, the regulations requiring the "back stamping" of mail matter would be suspended "to expedite the delivery of mail during the period, special delivery and registered mail only will be stamped with the time of receipt, the ordinary mail going through the office by the most approved "short cuts" known to the postal service.

RAISE RAILWAY VALUATION

The State Tax Commission raised the assessed valuation of the railroads in the state about $3,000,000, over last year. The net total valuation is but one and a half millions higher than last year, the terminal properties being assessed locally, instead of by the state. The Northwestern pays an assessed valuation of 114 million an increase of 9 million, and the Soo a total of 43 million, an increase of 4 1/2 millions.

Parents Meeting

The Junior class and faculty of the high school have issued invitations for a parents meeting in the school house Friday evening.

Co. Supt. Lowell has consented to allow Mr. McCaskill to speak at the gathering of parents.

REQUIRE LICENSE TO KILL RABBITS

Opinion Is Given Out By Attorney General L. H. Bancroft

October 27, 1912.

Honorable John A. Shultz, State Fish and Game Warden.

Dear Sir:—In your letter of this day you state:

"I have been asked to have you give a written opinion as to whether a person desiring to hunt rabbits or other game upon land not his own or occupied by him and in a county where there is no closed season for rabbits has to obtain a license to hunt rabbits or other game not protected by the law."

Section 1498s of the statutes, as amended by chapter 525 of the laws of 1909, provides in part as follows: Every person who has resided in the state for one year previous to applying for a license to hunt game and who desires to hunt the same must first obtain a license from the county clerk of the county in which he resides."

It will be noted that this section does not refer merely to the hunting of protected game, but that it provides that any person who desires to hunt game must first obtain a license. Other provisions of the game law permit the hunting and killing of rabbits at any time, by one owning or occupying the land, and of squirrels during the open season, without a license. In my opinion, all others must procure a license before they are allowed to hunt game of any kind. Yours truly,

L. H. BANCROFT,

Attorney General.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

Important Doings Of The Week Among The Students

The bust of Shakespeare presented to the high school by the class of '08, which has been a landmark in the English room for so many years met with a sad accident the other day at the hands of some of the young athletes who found that their muscles were too strongly developed for such amusements. The bust which was more than life size was prized very highly by Miss Oakey and is very well known by all those familiar with the high school. Since the evil-doers will all be broke so badly in trying to pay for the bust, they have organized a "Brokers' Shakespearean Club." Although all of the brokers are broke, it is believed that Shakespeare is "broke" the worst.

Girls' basket-ball practice has not yet started owing to the financial difficulties of the players. The Suffragettes' basket-ball Ass'n has been trying to devise means of raising the fifty cents apiece necessary before they can practice. The boys are willing to come to terms as soon as the girls give evidence of having some of the coin. Since coming to press it has been rumored that several of the Suffragettes have cornered the cash and will commence practicing on Wednesday. Here's to the Suffragettes! ELWOOD SMITH.

POLICE AND FIRE FORCE

Rhinelander has excellent police and fire departments. Each man is efficient and alert. The police force is in charge of Maurice Straub, chief, and J. D. Cole is head of the fire department. Both men are competent in their respective positions. The city has two modern, up-to-date hose houses and first class fire equipment.

DIES IN FLORIDA

C. N. Shelton died Saturday last at his home at Maitland, Florida. Mr. Shelton was father of the late A. W. Shelton, who up until the time of his death three years ago, was one of the prominent attorneys and business men of Rhinelander.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB GIVES PROGRAM

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

Mora Vantwood spent Sunday with her parents at Watersmeet.

Mrs. A. H. Calhoun was a school visitor last night.

Teachers' Institute will be held at the County Training school.

An informal Christmas program will be given next Friday afternoon, Dec. 20, by the members of the school.

Miss Jones and Mrs. Dean's classes will also give a Christmas program in the assembly room. The exact hour will be given in next week's paper.

12-12 12-12 AT 12-12 THURSDAY

This is the way the full date was written.

It read: 12-12-12-12.

There you are. You can figure it down to a still finer point by waiting twelve seconds if you wish.

The next time it will be possible to get a like combination, will be in ninety-eight years, nine months, sixty-two days, twenty-three hours and fifty-eight minutes. Then it will be possible to write the exact date 10-10-10-10-10. — Chicago Record Herald.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. J. W. Burns' many friends in this city will be sorry to learn of her death at New Westminster, B. C. The Burns family were former residents of Rhinelander. Mrs. Burns was a sister of Mrs. Fred Post and Louis Panatier of this city. She was sixty years of age.

DO COUNTY UNDERTAKING

Anderson & Nick, the new furniture and undertaking concern of this city, has secured from the county board the contract for doing the undertaking for the county for the coming year.

There has never been a winter when lumbermen have had so much trouble with men as this season. The country seems to be full of tramps who hire out at every camp they come to and quit after the next meal or lodging.—New North, Feb. 26, 1911.

The North Side Hose Company give their initial party to the public at the Grand Opera House Easter.—New North, Feb. 26, 1911.

MILITIA COMPANY OF RHINELANDER

Was Organized In 1898 During Days Of Spanish American War

Co. L was originally mustered in as Co. H, 5th Wis. Nat. Guard, on July 30, 1898, by Col. W. H. Patton, then Asst. Adjutant Gen. The first officers of the Co. were Capt. E. O. Brown, 1st Lieut., D. H. Walker, 2nd Lieut., Thos. F. Brennan. The Co. was changed to Co. L, 2nd Wis. Nat. Guard in the summer of 1899.

Mr. Brown, served as Capt. of the Co. for 11 years, resigning in Dec., 1909. During this time the Co. was brought to a high state of efficiency.

D. H. Walker was made Capt. upon the resignation of Mr. Brown, in which capacity he still serves. The other officials are:

1st Lieut., Forest Himes, 2d Lieut., Clarence Wesley.

During the 14 years of its existence the Co. has made a uniformly good showing in the annual encampments as well as the two general maneuvers of the regular army, which they attended at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, in 1906, and at Saratoga, Wis., during the present year.

The performances of Private Russell in the competitive shooting contests during the last few years, were especially creditable both to himself and the organization, which he represented.

Co. L is not a trophy winner, but it always makes good, and the reason for this is that every man in the Co. has a real interest in the good name and standing of the Co. and does his share in making it so.

The Wisconsin National one of the very best stations of the kind in the state can be proven by the record. The 2nd. Regt. W. N. G. leads, and Co. L though not in the 2nd. Regt. is always in the head, and if the opportunity offers will be on the firing line, and will there make good.

BOOST

Get interested in your town and stand by it. If a rich man starts a project, encourage him; if a poor man, help him. Don't be afraid to stick your hand in your pocket. If you have means invest it in something that will give employment to somebody. Do not kick on every proposed improvement simply because it is not at your door. Do all you can to beautify the town and your own property also. Be friendly to everybody and to strangers and never forget that you are part of the town and that your own department does its share in giving the town its character. Sell and buy all you can at home. Stand by all enterprising citizens and be ready to do some of the work yourself and don't spend your time in grumbling and prophesying failures. —Clintonville Tribune.

A complaint has recently been instituted before the railroad rate commission by the paper mills of the state that is of great importance to the business future of Rhinelander. Pulp wood under its present classification takes a rate about 20 per cent higher than logs, and this constitutes a marked discrimination against paper mills in the transportation of their raw material. A reduction of 20 per cent was secured a short time ago, and if this further cut is secured, it will affect materially the cost of production in Rhinelander's most important industry.

A very enjoyable evening was afforded the large gathering, which attended the recital, given by the pupils of Miss Mary MacQueen at the Congregational church Monday evening. Several of the members showed unusual musical talent, and were repeatedly encored. Miss MacQueen deserves much credit for the excellent showing made by the young people.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Cecil, Wis., returned to their home Monday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cox. About two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Wilson started out from Cecil in their auto for this city but when about twenty miles from home were overtaken by a heavy storm and obliged to abandon the trip.

M. J. Cantwell of Oconto was in the city Monday.

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Rhinelander Citizens. A familiar burden in many a home. The burden of a "bad back." A lame, a weak or an aching back. Often tells you of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is good testimony to prove their merit.

W. H. Knox, Eagle River, Wis., says: "I had disordered kidneys and was unable to get relief. Finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and as they helped me, I continued until cured. I hope that my statement will lead other kidney sufferers to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Knox is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Knox had. 50c all stores. The members of Co. L. have begun their winter program of indoor sports, such as basket ball and indoor baseball. They expect to develop a crack basket ball team. Many new recruits are expected at this time, as the new men will then be well drilled for next summer's encampment.

A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150.00 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by All Dealers.

The new broom handle factory owned by the Oneida Handle Co., will start operations shortly. The plant formerly owned by the Rhinelander Boat Co., has been overhauled and the necessary machinery installed. Mr. C. J. Thompson is the President and R. G. Lowell Secretary of the new concern. Mr. Lowell will be in active charge of the plant.

International Special Molasses Feed

AN OPEN LETTER TO DAIRYMEN.

What is the cheapest feed you can buy this season? That is the question that is interesting every dairyman right now. Corn promises to be cheap and oats are selling at very low prices. Ground corn and oats will make you a cheap feed as far as cost per ton is concerned. If you could buy a feed for mixing with ground corn and oats that would cost you about the same as corn and oats and that would increase your milk production at least 50 percent on each twenty head of cows, you would increase your profits $500.00 a year if milking twenty cows per month. If milking forty cows you would increase your profits $1,000.00 per year. Hundreds of dairymen are using International Special Molasses Feed mixed in equal parts by weight with corn and oats and are reporting to us that their cows have increased from one to three quarts per day in their milk production. International Special Molasses Feed is far superior to ordinary mill feeds as a milk producer and conditioner. Just figure out what an increase of 1 1/2 quarts per day on each cow means for YOU. It means 140 gallons more per month from a herd of twenty cows. It means twelve gallons more per month from each cow. In order to get this result all you need to do is feed one-half International Special Molasses Feed and one-half corn and oats in the place of straight corn and oats. The increased milk production that obtained makes the International Special Molasses Feed worth at least $2.00 more per ton than ground corn and oats. It will cost you only $1.00 to $1.20 per ton more.

Latest State bulletins give the following reports on their analysis of International Special Molasses Feed: State of Pennsylvania, protein 14.0%; fat 3.74. State of New Jersey, protein, 13.1%; fat 3.62. State of New York, protein 13.1%; fat 3.62. This compares with an average analysis of less than 10% protein for ground corn and oats.

For each ton of International Special Molasses Feed that you will buy and use along with ground corn and oats you will make an extra profit of $20.00 over and above all extra cost. We sell and recommend the INTERNATIONAL SPECIAL MOLASSES FEED. We are headquarters for everything in our line.

ADVERTISING RATES
DISPLAY ADVERTISEMENTS—For a contract of three months or more, ten cents per column inch will be charged for each insertion. For a shorter time higher rates will be charged.
In addition to the above, all composition in display ads in excess of three minutes per inch, will be charged at the rate of thirty cents per hour.
READING NOTICES
READING NOTICES will be charged at ten cents per line for the first insertion and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion.
ALL NOTICES will be charged at regular rates except notices of church service. Paid entertainments for Churches will be charged at half rates.

The New North feels a pardonable pride in the publication of this issue commemorating the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of this paper. However, we are not unmindful of the hearty cooperation of the business people and private citizens who have contributed time and effort to make it a success. We appreciate the splendid patronage the business and professional men have accorded us, secure in the belief that they will be amply repaid by the large distribution, which this edition will have.

We have made the rates on this issue, but slightly above the regular price of the paper. The following are the prices:
Single copies 7c; per half dozen 40c; per dozen 75c; per hundred $5.00. If the regular edition is worth 5c, this one should have a four-fold value.

Brown Brothers, who were among the original founders of Rhinelander are still men in their prime and engaged in active business here.

This city has come to realize in many ways the material benefits that accrue from a state railroad commission, which is rationally and scientifically administered.

We have with us today in this city a relic of the printing trade of years ago, in the personage of Al. Lytle, who enjoyed the distinction of being the first printer's devil in the New North office, thirty years ago.

The Rhinelander Iron Company is one of the old reliable concerns of this city. Their ads are conspicuous in the New North of a quarter of a century ago.

The tax rate in Port Washington the home of Harry Bolens, the arch enemy of the income tax, has been lowered 25 percent. We won't be unkind enough to insinuate that the income tax was responsible for this cut.

If you will look over the ads of this issue you certainly will see opportunities enough to spend your money in Rhinelander without going elsewhere. Our merchants are alive and advertise their wares at right prices. Look over the New North for your Christmas purchases.

The New North has attempted to make this edition truly representative of every interest in this community. We think we have contributed our share by maintaining the same advertising rate as in the ordinary edition of the paper, notwithstanding the fact that the issue contains 40 pages and has an increase of 65 percent over the normal circulation.

It is an interesting fact to notice that the three mail carriers, John Gilligan, Howard Reed and Ray Marks, the men who carried the first mail delivered under the free delivery system in Rhinelander 8 years ago are all still on the force. No city has received better service, than has Rhinelander from these faithful employees. Howard Reed Jr. has since been added as a regular carrier, and at times the services of a substitute are required.

The purchasing public of this community can find no better index of the truly enterprising merchants of this city, than to peruse the columns of this edition. The live merchants have secured space to display the varied lines of goods they carry in stock, which are a splendid guide for the observing purchaser.

The New North was very loyal in its support of the men who are to represent us in the state senate assembly, on the ground that they represented true progressive principles. We hope that they will not disappoint us. However it will be our aim to inform the public of their actions on all the leading questions which come before the legislature. And if they do not fulfill their pledges, we shall not hesitate to present their records to our readers.

ELEVENTH HOUR CONVERT
It is amusing to read progressives to read the scathing attack made up on Senator LaFollette, the pioneer of the progressive movement in this nation, by Gov. Johnson of California, a recent recruit as Bryan says "in the vineyard of progressivism". When LaFollette was delivering the first effective blows against the system which had controlled in the U. S. Senate, Gov. Johnson was enjoying a modest law practice in the city of Sacramento and showed no deep concern in the battle that had been waged up to that time to dislodge the Southern Pacific, which held the state of California in its grip.
Senator LaFollette, long before Governor Johnson ever entered public life, had crystallized the progressive movement in California by a succession of powerful speeches delivered throughout the entire state. Gov. Johnson made a fit running mate to Ex. President Roosevelt. Neither ever had the courage to be progressive until the fight for progressivism had been made and was about to be won throughout the entire nation.

THIS APPLIES NOW
Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have a peculiar power of pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly and his pocketbook kept plenteous by prompt paying patrons he puts his pen to his paper in peace. His paragraphs are more pointed, his paragraphs are more pointed, he paints his picture of passing events in more pleasant colors, and the perusal of his paper is a pleasure to the people. Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can receive it.—New North, Nov. 20, 1890.

FORESTRY SERVICE FAULTY
The vacillating policy of the present forestry service has resulted in causing many who formerly supported the forestry policy of the state to waver in their support. Their action has retarded the development of this section and immediate steps should be taken to alleviate the hardship which is being worked upon this region. A committee has been appointed by the county board composed of R. N. Moran, chairman, E. W. Knapp and Henry Wubker Sr. to protect the interest of the people of this section against the encroachments of the forest service at the coming session of the legislature.

HITS TAFT AND T. R.
Asserting that the "powerful, un-restrained and corrupt encroachments of combined wealth," have corrupted the voter's franchise, Senator Works, California, today addressed the senate in favor of a single six-year presidential term. The California senator bitterly excoriated Roosevelt and the Progressive party and condemned both the colonel and Taft for "degrading, contemptible and disrespectful wrangles" in the campaign.

"When Roosevelt again became a candidate George W. Perkins became his ardent supporter and chief financial backer. Perkins knew, by actual demonstration, that his company would be safe against just prosecution if Roosevelt were elected—unless he should change his mind."

TO OUR READERS
It is customary, we believe, for editors upon launching a new paper upon the "troubled sea of journalism," to devote about a column to what they purpose to do for their readers toward making them enlightened and happy, and, at the same time push themselves up a step or two on the ladder of fame. We will break over rules and briefly re-mark: First, we have come to stay. Second, the readers of the New North will find its columns devoted to the interests of Rhinelander and vicinity, its residents, and its business interests. To many who have wished to know the political cast of the new paper, we will say, that while we have strong political convictions, we deem it best, for the present at least, to make the New North a strictly independent (not neutral) sheet. On all questions of morality, and matters for the public good, we shall be found on the side of justice and right.—New North December 7, 1912.

The Rhinelander New North is thirty years old. The Journal celebrated its thirtieth birthday the other day and feels a sympathetic interest in another paper that has passed the period of probation and shown itself a useful servant of the community in which it has its being. Congratulations to The New North. May it celebrate very many more anniversaries with increasing usefulness and prosperity.—Milwaukee Journal.

MAIN OFFICE OF NEW NORTH

THE NEW NORTH
The New North was founded on Dec. 7, 1882, by Chas. F. Barnes, who transferred the paper to Geo. W. Bishop and Walter Pollock in 1889. Mr. Pollock withdrew to be succeeded by Wm. Ogden in 1889. Mr. Geo. W. Bishop became the sole owner in 1899. His interest in the paper was disposed of in 1904 to C. M. Park, who in turn sold the paper to F. A. Lowell in 1906. The paper was incorporated as the New North Printing Co. in 1909.

It required considerable courage for a young man to come up here into the woods and start a newspaper, as one of the first enterprises of the town. It was a success from the start, the few residents advertising freely. Mr. Barnes received favorable comment all over the state on the merit of the publication which he founded.

Mr. Geo. W. Bishop of Lake Mills who had had a wide experience as a newspaper man in southern Wisconsin, assumed active control of the paper in 1888. Mr. Bishop entered into a partnership with Wm. Ogden in 1889 and under their management the New North during the next ten years, became the leading weekly in this section of the state. The prominence gained through the publication of this newspaper was instrumental in securing Mr. Bishop's elevation to the State Board of Control where he took a very active part from the very first. Mr. Bishop was followed by Mr. C. M. Park who kept the standard of the paper on the high plane set by his predecessors. On July 1st, 1906 the ownership and management of the paper passed to F. A. Lowell, the paper being incorporated in 1909 as the New North Printing Co. under which name it is now run.

Under its present management an effort has been made to make the paper a medium for furthering the best interests of every class. While our efforts have been the subject of criticism at various times, we shall aim in the future, as in the past, to make this paper truly representative of the community, which we attempt to serve.

BREAKERS AHEAD
President Wilson was elected to his high office by the progressives of this country irrespective of party. With his splendid record as president of one of our leading universities and as governor of New Jersey, the people had reason to expect an administration of accomplishment. But with lines now forming it is becoming apparent that the president has an almost insurmountable task before him. With Underwood, the dominant force in the House of Representatives, attending secret dinners as the guest of men of the type of Thos. F. Ryan and Nelson W. Aldrich men who represent the bi-partisan interest of the Wall street crowd in governmental affairs, the people may well have cause to fear and with Simmons of N. Carolina, Aldrich's democratic left bower, slated for leadership of the democracy in the senate, it will give the people further cause for concern. Later developments will show that president Wilson will be compelled to contend with these sinister influences. If he is to truly protect the rights of the people. While he should try to cooperate as far as possible, he should not surrender, as did his predecessor, the places of power and influence in his administration to the representatives of those powerful interests which are ever on the alert to convert the functions of government to their own interest.
The first real index of the character of his administration will be shown, as it was in the case of his predecessor, in the make-up of his cabinet.

ANNIVERSARY FORCE
The following is the office force that was actively engaged in getting out this anniversary issue of the New North:

Theresa Malz—Stenographer and Bookkeeper.
Carl Dern—Foreman press room.
Henry E. Osborne—Ads and make-up man.
Anna Cardin—Linotype operator.
Mary Schlottke—Compositor.
J. A. Gritzmacher—Ad man.
Fred Davis—Compositor.
Waldemar H. Johnson—Ads and pressman.
Bernard Straub—Printer's Devil.

TRAINING SCHOOL FACULTY
Although the Oneida County Teachers' Training School organized with but two teachers, a little over two years ago (Sept. 5, 1910), the attendance has grown so rapidly that the faculty has been increased to four as follows:
D. Mack Dresden, Principal.
Margaret E. Sutton, Assistant.
Nellie Plugh, Assistant.
E. L. Luther, Agriculture.

LIFE INSURANCE AT COST
You know very well that you ought to carry life insurance; but usually you don't do it until a persuasive agent coaxes you up to the point of signing an application; and the greater part of your first year's premium goes to pay the agent for wheeling you into doing what you know well enough you ought to do. If it is so-called industrial insurance you pay another agent to come round and collect the weekly or monthly premium. Several years ago Massachusetts undertook to furnish industrial life insurance at cost through savings banks, with no agency expenses. The venture has been very moderately successful; a vast majority of the insured still prefer the expensive agent. Wisconsin's more ambitious plan of furnishing life insurance at cost is now coming into effect. Any resident of that state between ages twenty and fifty can apply for insurance through any village, city or county clerk, state factory inspector, or bank that is a state depository; or, by dropping a postcard to the Insurance Commissioner, at Madison, he can get a simple application blank, fill it out and mail it himself. If he passes the medical examination the Insurance Department will issue him a policy—whole life, term or endowment, as he chooses. It is exactly like the insurance written by the "old-line" mutual companies, except that it is sold at cost.
No doubt a great many will still wait for the agent—and pay the difference; but a man in Wisconsin who wants life insurance at cost can now get it. In other communities he is obliged to pay the agent's commission whether he wants to or not.—Saturday Evening Post.

TEDDY SAVES PERKINS
A futile attempt was made at the progressive party conference to eliminate Geo. W. Perkins from active participation in the work of the Progressive party. Garfield, Heney and the Pinchots seem to have sickened at some of the performances of Teddy's Angel and now are making an attempt to purge that organization. The big Bull Moose, realizing the material financial aid which Perkins has and will give, brought all his influence to bear, and inasmuch as he is the whole party he didn't have much difficulty in convincing himself that Perkins must remain.
As long as the Progressive party numbers among its list of supporters such men as Perkins, Munsey, Dax Hanna, and Bill Filan, it can never hope to win the confidence of the American people.

CONGRATULATIONS
The New North is 30 years old this Saturday December 7 and the News, its younger contemporary, extends hearty best wishes and congratulations and hopes for its continued prosperity and success under its able management.
The New North was started in 1882 by Charles Barnes and sprang at once into the prominence which it has maintained under several owners. The New North is always interesting and meets the demands of a large subscription list for "progressive" principles, besides always having a well selected bunch of news. It is no small task to successfully conduct a newspaper as is The New North and F. A. Lowell and his assistants have shown untiring energy and enterprise, as did their predecessors.—Rhinelander News.

RAP TAFT'S PET
The U. S. Supreme Court has just recently reversed the Commerce Court in the Chicago Stock Yards Ry. cases. The Interstate Commerce Commission assumed jurisdiction over the stock yards railways to prevent rebating on its lines. They were reversed by the Interstate Commerce Court, one of the creations of the Taft-Aldrich-Cannon domination in national affairs. The creation of this court was also approved by Wm. Randolph Hearst and Theodore Roosevelt and fought vigorously by every progressive in both the U. S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Happily the U. S. Supreme Court has reversed the Commerce Court in every case where the Commission appealed. Judge Archbald, a member of the Court, is now on trial before the U. S. Senate charged with using his position for personal profit.

COMPLYING WITH THE LAW
In complying with the recent act of congress requiring newspapers to publish information as to ownership, circulation, etc. Fred Newall, editor of the Canton (Pa.) Sentinel, adds this statement: "We also own a lawn mower and have a limited amount of stock in two telephone companies. A dog locally known as 'Nigger' tags us around sometimes, but we disclaim ownership or responsibility for him. Said dog sleeps on the mat by our front door when he don't sleep somewhere else. He comes to our house when we have chicken for dinner, and climbs up and licks our hands and face when he wants a favor. At other times he don't know us. Said dog is a politician. We don't know what he was running for, but the last we saw him he was running from a chunk of wood we threw after him because he played tag with our undershirt hanging on the clothes line. We are a Taft man and we wear false teeth. We used to go to Sunday school. If there is any further information that the postmaster general wants in regard to us on the Canton Sentinel, he is referred to the police."

We are this week publishing the report of the City Sealer. Much valuable information is contained therein, and there is every indication of conscientious and painstaking effort on the part of Mr. Dandfield. Considering the time which is necessary to the proper performance of his duties, the Sealer's salary is wholly inadequate and should be raised substantially.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF RHINELANDER

History Of Their Establishment And Growth By Mrs. A. W. Shelton

Rhineland was settled in the fall of 1882 and the town of Pelican set off in 1883.

On April 21, 1883, a school meeting was held and John C. Curran was elected clerk, Casper Faust, treasurer, and Charles Chafee, director.

A one room school house was built on the present site of the High school building and school was opened on June 18, 1883, with an enrollment of 18. Miss Jennie Loomis taught continuously until December 21, 1883, when she resigned to become Mrs. Alex McRae. Miss Cora Phillips of Omro finished the year.

Miss Mary Kelly of Fond du Lac opened school October 26, 1884 and the following summer a three room school building was erected on the present High school grounds and the old building was moved across

The growing town created a need for new school buildings and a two room building was erected on the north side in 1888, which was later known as the McCord annex, and a school opened on the west side. During the summer of 1889 the High school building was built and the old building moved to Oneida Avenue and named the Curran school. In 1890 a four room building was built on the north side and named the McCord school in honor of Congressman Myron McCord who was instrumental in securing the passage of the bill that gave the money from the sale of the water reserve land to the public school fund of the county.

In 1893, following the location of the Wabash Screen Door Co. in our city, the South Park School, consisting of three rooms was built. In 1895 the High school building had a large wing containing three rooms added to it and again in 1900 it was remodeled to gain more room. In the fall of 1904 the Curran school burned and was replaced by a solid brick building which was occupied in the spring of 1906. In October, 1905, a disastrous fire destroyed both the McCord school and the McCord Annex. These were replaced by an eight room brick building which was ready for use late in the fall of 1906. Mr. Pridemore was succeeded by George Peterson of River Falls Nor-

MEMORABLE GAME OF BASE BALL

Fats and Leans Battle On Local Diamond Twenty-Two Years Ago

In glancing through the old files of the New North there is found in the issue of Sept. 11, 1890 an account of a base ball game between the Fats and the Leans. The teams were comprised of prominent business and professional men of the town many of whom are still residing here, while others have years ago moved elsewhere, and some have gone to their final rest. The write-up was the product of the late George Bishop, who with William Ogden, was then publisher of this paper. It is written in Mr. Bishop's most humorous vein and will undoubtedly cause a smile to flicker across the faces of the "old timers" who read it. Following is the story:

The question of supremacy has been settled and the fat man is cock of the walk. A large number were attracted to the ball park yesterday, and their trouble was rewarded by seeing a game which abounded in plays never before witnessed on the diamond. The two umpires, Wilson and Carr, took their positions at 2:30 and called upon the players to bank for shot. The clubs were assigned to the field in the following order:

Fats	Position	Leans
W. Harrigan	Catcher	Naylor
Blitch	Pitcher	Reardon
Beck	Short Stop	J. Harrigan
Canry	First Base	Barnes
Hagan	Second	W. Brown
Wissler	Third	Morley
Stevens	Right Field	Shelton
M. Johnson	Center Field	Ole Johnson
Ed Berry	Asst. Fielder	Nichols and Squiers

Thomas McDermott, Sr., mascot and bat carrier.

The fats took the field and there was a chorus of "Oh's" as their shapes loomed up in the many colored suits. Beck looked like the mother of all the dolly venders and the little bulldog shaped fat and taking advantage of his size and low was discovered to be Dr. Tubbs strength, he ran square into first in disguise. Nothing but praise was heard for the masterly manner in which Big Martin Johnson threw himself around the field and dodged the ball. The battery work of Blitch and Harrigan was good. The leans made a few runs in their half of the first inning. When the leans took the field, it was evident that there would be trouble. Naylor girded up his loins in a manner, which boded no good for his hated rivals. He put on the mask, but it slipped down over him onto the ground. He stood behind the catcher's mit and boldly stopped the deceptive drops, and bewildering speed, from twirler Reardon's good right arm. There was a kick, which echoed through the woods for miles when Ed Squiers jumped up and pulled down a three base hit which Harrigan had started for town. The fats looked up Squier's record and found that he had "taken part in two players' League game and was ineligible to service in

ENTERPRISE OF THE EARLY DAYS

Rhineland Citizens In 1891 Prove Themselves Strong Boosters.

That the early day citizens of Rhineland were full of push and enterprise is shown by the following clipping from the New North of June 4, 1891:

A conversation was overheard by one of our citizens while at the Bellis at Wausau in which the benefits of Advancement Associations were being discussed, and as the discussion waxed a little hot one of the leading lumbermen said: "Why clubs enjoying protection under the three o'ring on his subscription, the National agreement," whatever that New North outfit had a narrow escape from going to jail Monday means. Anyway, that's what Blitch said, and it must have been a clinch as the other side gave up and for a half day. Purely through a clerical error, one of the force, who has Squiers quit playing. One of the fats hit the ball to Ed. Morley, and instead of throwing it to first, he lanced in wood sniping during the looked across the diamond, and tossed the ball back to the pitcher. The nine roared, and he said he couldn't see anyone on first base. Will Brown and Nichols marched Morley across the diamond and showed him that Charley Barnes was there and once more that some homestead sub-the street where it is now occupied mal, who remained three years and as a dwelling house.

In September 1885, Miss Jessie Meyer of Lancaster opened school in the new building and was succeeded by Miss Jennie Moulton in September, 1886. In the spring of 1887 it was necessary to employ a second teacher and Miss Lottie Stevenson became primary teacher.

In the fall of 1887, Mr. Albert Pridemore was engaged as Principal. Mr. Pridemore was a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and remained four years. In Jan., 1889, Mr. Pridemore also assumed the duties of County Superintendent of Schools in place of Mrs. A. W. Shelton, who had been appointed County Superintendent of Schools in Jan., 1887 when Oneida county came into being.

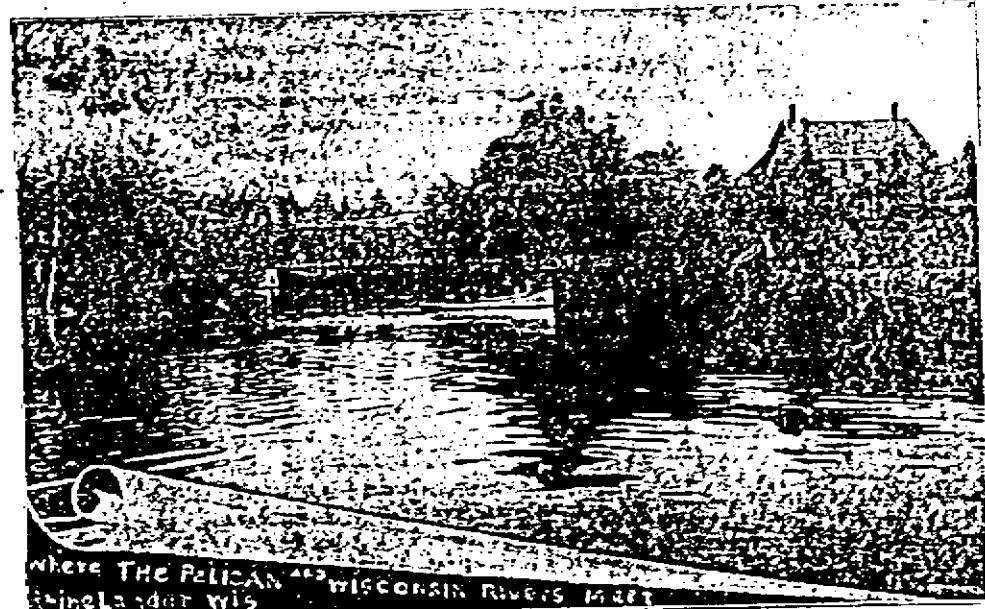

In 1888 a three year High school course was adopted and Miss Heiler Wheeler of Neenah was the first High school assistant.

During this time in the town of Pelican, just south of the Curran home was a one room school house, with Miss Ella Finnesey, teacher. The pupils of this school were all Indians, except that the Curran children attended this school. When the High school course was adopted this school was abandoned and later was moved to the site of the Joe McLaughlin school house. Most of the Indians went on to the reservation and the Currans came to town to school.

In 1890 the High school had grown so that it was necessary to have a second assistant. In the fall of 1894, C. M. Gleason, a graduate of Whitewater Normal school, became principal and took steps at once to establish a four year High school course. In 1897 he was succeeded by F. S. Hyer of the Milwaukee Normal who was followed in 1900 by F. A. Lowell, a Wisconsin University graduate, with three assistants in the High school. In 1901 a supervisor of music and drawing was added to the teaching force and a teacher for the deaf and dumb was employed for a couple of years. In 1905 a fourth assistant was added, in 1906 another, in 1908, another and in 1909 manual training became a part of the school work and in 1910 domestic science was added to the curriculum.

In 1894, Rhineland was organized as a city and the school board but it was not until 1902 that the changed from three to nine members of the county and placed under a city Supt. of schools. The High school Principal has since been the City Supt. of Schools.

In 1906, F. A. Lowell was succeeded by W. B. Collins who in turn was followed by F. A. Harrison in 1908, and W. P. Colburn assumed the duties of the head of the schools in Sept. 1912. All these men are graduates of the University of Wisconsin. In twenty-nine years the schools although arranged in a daffony suit, ready to receive any ball that was thrown. The leans presented a bean man of depth. Blitch wore a suit of mongrel colors, in addition to a like the head beetler in some Turk-kicking machine which he had borrowed from the pitcher of some other nine, and he had improved upon it, so that when he wound it up field straight and stiff, like the star and started it going it struck terror to the umpire's very bones. The friends of catcher Naylor were uniform of Frank Wissler was loud enough to be heard all around the grounds. There was a suspicion that the fats had run in a prizefighter or struck the ball with all his might, when the assistant right and knocked it way out, almost to the high grass, but on close examination he saw a sure out awaited him.

April 16, 1891.

If any of the present day readers desire to learn anything more regarding this wood swiping episode, there is no doubt but what Patrick Keenan, local representative for the Schlitz Brewing company, could give them extended details.

Every lot in Keenan's addition to Rhineland has been sold and most of them will be built upon next season. Mr. Keenan will plat more of his land in the spring.—New North, November 26, 1891.

NOT SO NOW DAYS

Twenty-two years ago our newspaper publishers showed their "enterprise" by turning down advertising when their columns were crowded as an item taken from the New North of May 15 would indicate. This states that owing to the crowded condition of the paper it was necessary to leave out the advertisement of John Robinson's circus but that said ad would appear in the next issue. In these times a live newspaper would issue a supplement or extra pages in order to accommodate an advertiser.

In connection here it may prove interesting to add that the John Robinson show was the first big circus to come to Rhineland.

MARK WANTED A GAME

Mark Bellis of 39-19 was in town Saturday on his way to Wausau for a visit with his parents. Mark wants a ball game between the settlers and the fliers pretty bad, and the New North is authorized by him to challenge the settlers to play his nine of fliers at Rhineland any time within 21 days for any sum from 1 to 50 dollars, the one dollar preferred. If some squatter can get a hustle on himself now and organize a nine, we will see one for blood. Answers to Mark's challenge should be sent to Sporting Editor, New North, Issue of New North, May 7, 1891.

Alex McRae will soon remove to Tycom, Wash., where he intends to reside permanently.—New North, 1891.

ONEIDA COUNTY SOIL PRODUCTION

Agricultural Possibilities of This Section Are Unlimited

A few years ago, within the memory of every reader of the New North, a vast pine forest covered the land of Oneida county. People came here to "log." Lumbering was thought to be the only industry that could thrive in this country. Land was secured for the sole purpose of turning the pine into ready cash. At that time people could not believe that Oneida county soil could yield greater wealth than could be gained in the lumbering industry. Not more than ten years ago it was not generally believed that Oneida county soil could be tilled successfully. We were "too far north," "the winters were too long," or the land was "too sandy," or "too hilly" or "too rocky."

To the student of agriculture this mistaken notion seems strange when we can see the clovers and other tame grasses growing along every road side and in every opening in the woods where the sun could start the seed into life. A soil that can grow clover so easily will grow other products equally well. Every practical and thoughtful man should have readily seen that Oneida county is generally well adapted to farming, and with such abundant pasturage and pure water it would, in time, become the leading dairy and sheep growing section of the state.

Our soil contains some sand which always shows upon the surface, and the country has been burned over so the soil often appears sterile. But we have very little of the light, drifting sand that is found in several counties in the central part of the state. We have no more hills nor more rocks than are found in other parts of the state.

The soil usually varies from sandy loam to a clayey loam and is remarkably productive. I have yet to find the man who has tilled Oneida county land with energy and intelligence but is satisfied with the result.

da county land with energy and intelligence but is satisfied with the result.

The "proof of the pudding is in the eating." The proof of Oneida county soil is in the crops it will raise. The soil that will yield from two to three tons of hay per acre; that will give us from two hundred to three hundred and fifty bushels of potatoes; sixty bushels of oats weighing forty pounds to the measured bushel; that will grow corn twelve feet high is far from being sterile and should attract the attention of people seeking farms.

While agriculture in Oneida county is yet in its infancy, we have lately leaped into prominence as an agricultural country. The productiveness of our fields has astonished visitors from every section of the country. Our exhibits at the county and state fairs have been such as to excite favorable comments from the press. Not only has it been shown that we can grow good crops of grain and surpass the southern part of the state in growing grass and vegetables, but we can grow small fruits to perfection. Our soil seems to be adapted to growing berries. No raspberry grow larger, or more highly colored or have a more delicious flavor than in Oneida county.

The plum, too, seems to be perfect here. The plum, too, seems to be perfect here. The plum, too, seems to be perfect here.

What are the agricultural possibilities of Oneida county? My own experience and observation leads me to say that every well tilled forty acres of agricultural land should yield, in gross receipts, from $1200 to $1500 annually. If then there are six thousand descriptions of good agricultural land in Oneida county, we may safely say, when fully developed, our county can produce from $7,000,000 to $9,000,000 annually.

Thirty years ago Oneida county was known only for its vast pine forests. Today we are in a transition state. The pine has disappeared and the usual exodus of transient settlers has taken place, farmers are now being attracted by our cheap and fertile lands. In our imagination we look forward thirty years and we see a well developed community. We can see comfortable farm homes, high bred stock grazing upon our rich pastures and products of the soil unsurpassed by any county in the state.

Not only does the settler find here an invigorating atmosphere, pure water and a fertile soil, the pleasure seeker finds here varied and enchanting scenes.

As and fire have laid waste the magnificent forests that once covered the land, and yet, with all this destruction the denuded hills present to us a rugged beauty.

Oneida county has mountain scenery, in miniature it is true, but unsurpassed in charm of view. We have the wooded gulch and shady glen. There is the ever changing scene of field and forest, of hill and dale.

Dead is the soul of him who cannot enjoy Oneida county's sparkling lakes and limpid streams, or who cannot get inspiration from the wild and magical music of the cataracts rude play. Oneida county is a place where the muses might revel and poets might dream.

A MESSAGE

To Feeble Old People.

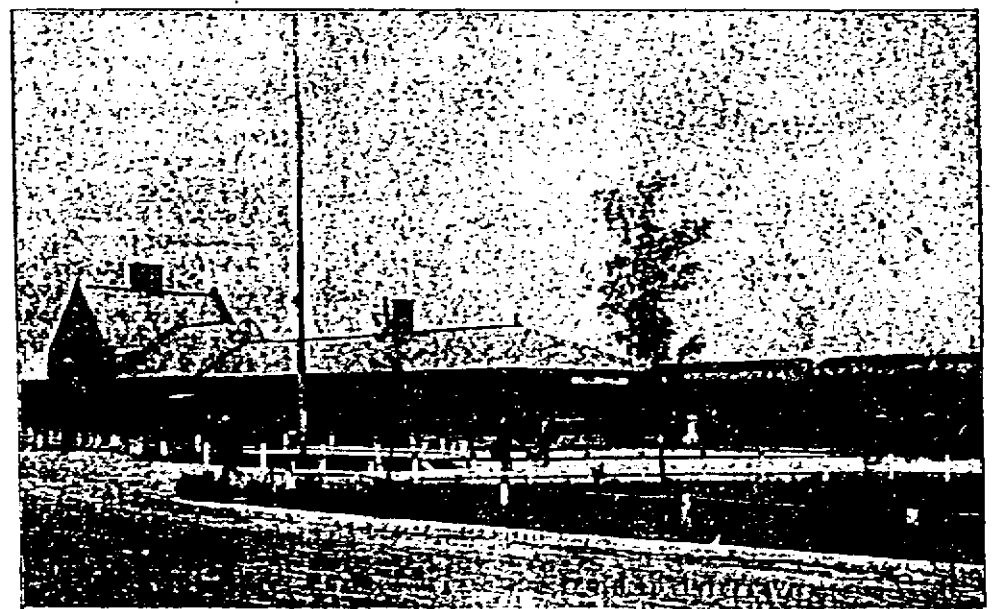

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

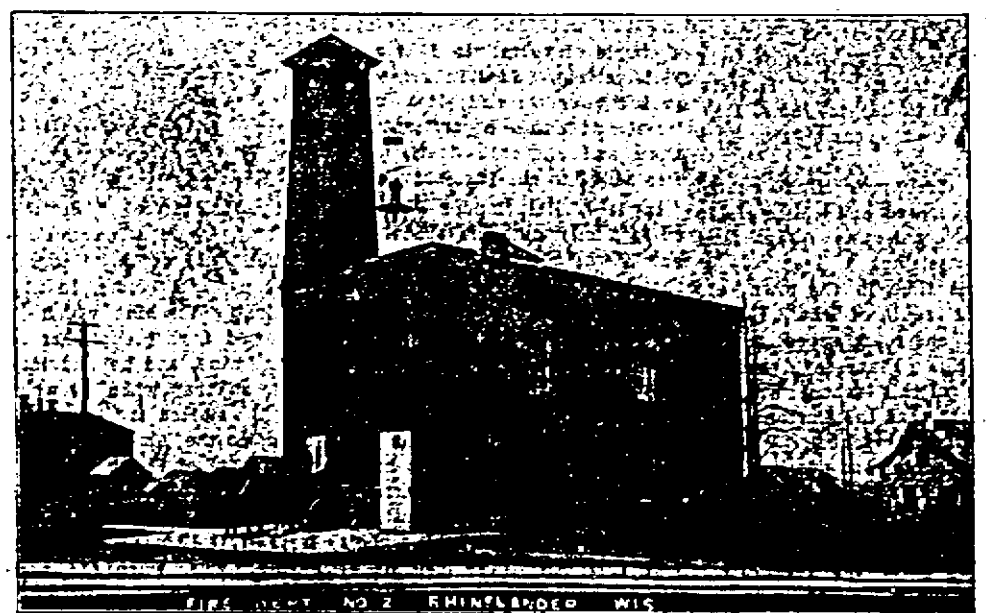

A grandniece of Alexander Hamilton, over eighty years of age, once remarked: "Vinol is a godsend to old people. Thanks to Vinol, I have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, feel active and well. It is the finest tonic and strength-creator I have ever used."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble old people, and create strength, we will return your money. P. S. Our Sarsaparilla stops itching and begins healing at once.

EASTER COMES EARLY

1913 Date Is Earliest On Which Festival Can Occur

Easter Sunday will this year fall on March the 23. This is a date earlier than it has occurred since 1900, or than it will occur again at least before 1925 and perhaps for many years later than that. March 23 is the earliest Easter can possibly come in any year. Days are regulated by Zodiac. Days and nights are equal on the 21st of March and the first Sunday after the first full moon, after the days and nights are equal next March, 1913, and the next day after the full moon is Sunday and must be Easter. This makes Easter March 23.

The dates of all other movable feasts depend on that of Easter and thus they come very early in the year as compared with other year. Lent will commence with Ash Wednesday which will be February 5. There have been times and will be again when Easter will be nearly thirty days later than it will be in 1913.

SUGGESTIONS TO SHIPPERS OF CHRISTMAS PACKAGES BY EXPRESS

1st. Ship your package early—by the 15th of December if possible. The express company will give you a small label to paste on the package reading "Do not open until Christmas." This will give opportunity for the package to reach its destination before Christmas and give the additional pleasure to the recipient of the gift of having it on Christmas morning.

2nd. Use wooden boxes with plenty of excelsior for packing glass and other fragile articles, which cannot otherwise be safely carried.

3rd. Write the address distinctly and in full—state, county, city, street and number—on the box or package, with ink or crayon. Tags are frequently torn off and lost.

4th. If you want to prepay the charges, write the word "Paid" in large, plain, letters on the package.

5th. Insist upon a receipt and see that the amount paid and the value is marked on the receipt and on the package.

6th. Write your own address in full somewhere on the package, following the word "From."

7th. Enclose a card in each box or package reading:

From (Your address.)

To (Consignee's address.)

This in order that should the outer markings be destroyed, the inner mark will insure prompt forwarding and delivery.

8th. If paper is employed for wrapping, use only the strongest, and tie with strong cord. Never use newspaper.

9th. If package contains anything of perishable nature, write the word "Perishable" in large plain letters on the box or package, which will call for special attention and delivery.

10th. Obliterate all old addresses on boxes or wrappings.

If you will observe these suggestions you will greatly assist in the prompt delivery of your gift in good condition.

MATT STAPLETON

Arrived in Rhinelander 30 years ago next March He has taken the NEW NORTH all these years.

Thirty years ago all Government lands sold at $1.25 per acre. There were then 35,882,240 acres in Wisconsin whose population was then 1,315,497. Now we have a population of 2,333,860. You see our population has doubled, but our acreage has decreased, on account of Government and State Reserve land until we have about 15 acres for every man woman and child, left in Wisconsin.

Land has proven to be a very safe investment.

MATT STAPLETON

THIRTY YEARS AGO IN RHINELANDER

Alex McRae Writes Entertainingly Of the City's Early History

Sometime during the month of November, 1882, while assisting C. F. Barnes in constructing the type racks to hold the type for the paper he was about to issue, he placed on a table before me a large type plate on which were the words THE NEW NORTH, which was to be the name of the paper about to be issued. The New North, I suppose, referred to the condition of this neck of the woods at that time or probably to the dawn of a new civilization. But as the red man would say, "North not new but white man new." The granite ledge by the Wisconsin river was older than the human race.

The Wisconsin river tumbling over the rocks of Pelican Rapids was not new. The beautiful lakes with the surrounding forests were not new. Although we were conscious of their existence for the first time. But some things were new. The construction of a railroad to Pelican Rapids was something new, and good news to the lumberman who could ship his supplies to Rhinelander in stead of boating or hauling by team from Wausau or Merrill. The noise made by the new arrivals in their hurry to build before winter set in was something new in the North.

I arrived at Pelican Rapids on October 2nd, 1882, coming on a hand car from Monico. At that time there were two buildings in what is now the city of Rhinelander, both built of logs; one was owned by Thos. McDermott Sr., and located about where Armour's warehouse now stands. The other was owned by Frank Jepson and located about where Stumpner's shop is now situated. These with some tents, scattered around among the Jack Pines were Rhinelander of that time. On Oct. 2nd, 1882 the farming community was in better condition; John G. Curran owned a nice log house at the mouth of the Pelican river; Leon and Horr was just completing a comfortable home on his homestead which is now the Brown Bros. farm opposite the creamery; Joe St. Germain had comfortable buildings on what is now the John Hess farm. But matters in the city were changing. Brown Bros. were building their mill and boarding house, and several others were putting down foundations for buildings. The buildings constructed during the months of October and November 1882, were Brown Bros. boarding house, J. L. DeVoin store on the corner now occupied by Reardon's drug store; Mr. Powell's store on the corner now occupied by Jacobson's store; Wm. Webb's hotel, part of the Oneida House; Jas. McCrossen's small store, where the Nichol's Hardware now stands; Coon and Chafee's barn occupied and used as a hotel during the construction of the Rapids House. The Rapids House, the Arlington Hotel, then the Allan House, were under construction during the month of November. Tolman and Conro of Oshkosh constructed a mill boarding house and were preparing to build their saw mill. They brought with them a small portable mill to saw timber and lumber for their larger mill.

The above mentioned together with a few temporary shanties, was all there was to Rhinelander at the time the New North first appeared upon the scene. I might mention the names of some of the men who were prominent at that time. Some of them are still with us, and others have gone away. D. S. Barnes, store manager for Mr. Powell; Geo. L. Young, Chas. Vinal, Thos. McDermott Jr., Engineers for R. R. construction and platting city, Archie Slevright, Gumauer & Dickie, Dereg & Averil, Pat and Frank Smith, loggers. So much for the history of Rhinelander at the advent of the New North. Many changes have since taken place which I will leave for others, or for some future time. Wishing the New North at least another thirty years of usefulness and prosperity.

SUPT. LOWELL'S ANNUAL REPORT

'Gives Condition Of Schools and Recommends Appropriations

Rhineland, Wis., Dec. 2, 1912.
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Oneida County,
Gentlemen:

The law prescribes that the county superintendent shall report to you the condition of the schools of the county at this meeting of your body. It will be my aim not to be tedious in this report but I still wish to give you a clearer idea of the number and condition of the schools of the county.

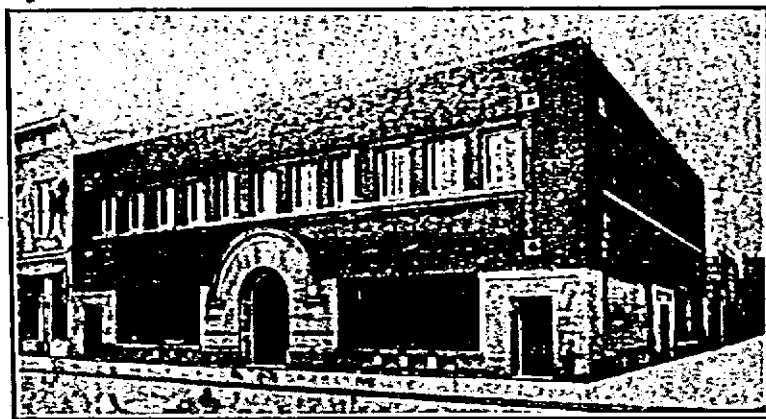

There were seventy-one teachers actually employed in the rural, graded schools and one high school last year and of this number there were only six who had not attended a high school one year or more and a large number of the teachers had done much academic work. All had done six weeks or more normal school work and many had taken a short course in Oneida County Training school. There were a half dozen full training school graduates. For the time it has been in existence our training school has done much good work both directly and indirectly. It has established the fact that a training school is an absolute necessity in Oneida county. The teachers of this school are always ready to extend their help to all the teachers of the county, irrespective of where they graduated or what their education. In writing this report, it would be unfair to the high school graduates of the county to say that they too, after having professional training, do not become excellent teachers. The ideal condition will be reached when the teachers are graduates of the high school and the training school. With many good teachers there are still a few time servers, who are in the profession for the money only, but as the teacher's ideal grows we expect to gradually eliminate these. The change from the township system to the independent system has caused some confusion, but we hope to see some of the benefits of the new independent system at the beginning of another year, by a continuance in office of two members of each three or, in other words, a continuous school board, which is absolutely essential to good school records. However, the new system does not provide for sufficient salaries for the officers under the new independent system, where the district includes more than one school or the whole town. It will be my aim to see what can be done in the next legislature to correct this injustice. I must impress upon the county board the loss to a town by not electing as clerk of a school board a most intelligent person and keeping him or her (often better her) in office for long periods. I am certain several towns have met with considerable loss the past few months by incompetent clerks. When the census is not taken correctly, it means a loss of nearly three dollars a pupil to the town from the state mill tax, so beware! The last few years the clerical work of the county superintendent has increased ten fold; now he is truancy officer which requires hours of time each month, his various reports to the state take weeks of time and patience. In many counties the superintendent has given up visiting the schools to a very large extent and have become office clerks. I know too well what a loss this is to the schools. The superintendent must visit the schools to aid the teachers and keep them in an expectant mood. It should be the main work but can not be unless the county pays the superintendent something for clerk hire. The last two years I have paid a liberal amount out of my salary to have the clerical work done and at the same time have not neglected visiting the schools. Since this school year opened in September, I have visited every school in Oneida county long enough to know well what the teachers are doing, and am giving them such individual and institute aid as I can in the light of this knowledge. A careful study of the expenditure by the training school board suggests that the board report the following financial conditions to the county board, and ask the following amount in order to continue the school in good financial condition another year. The past allowances and expenditures may look large, but when it is taken into consideration that practically all other counties in the state that have utilized their old court house have allowed ($5,000.00) five thousand dollars to put it in shape, aside from appropriations for running expenses.

Financial report for school year 1912-1913:

Principal Dresden's report follows:
Rhineland, Wis., Nov. 1, 1912.
Supt. F. A. Lowell,
Secretary Training School Board,
Rhineland, Wis.

Dear Sir:
I have the honor of submitting the report of the Oneida County Teachers' Training School for the year from November 1, 1911 to October 31, 1912. The enrollment of the school for the school year ending July 1, was 57. The enrollment in the course in Agriculture was 15. The total enrollment was therefore 72. The enrollment for this year so far is 34—a larger number than were enrolled last year at this time. This enrollment seems to indicate that the parents feel that the children are getting the right kind of training. About one half of the students come from the country, the other half almost wholly from the city. Last year a number—six—were drawn to this school from adjoining counties.

As last year, so this year the faculty took an active part in Teachers' institutes and School board conventions. In addition to this much direct help has been given to teachers in the service. The number of students in the second half of the year was so large and the number of classes as a consequence so large, that a third teacher was added to the faculty. As a result it will be possible to do better work than has been done in the past.

During the summer the rooms occupied by the Training school have been improved by a coat of varnish and by the addition of new bookcases. I feel that the school is now fairly equipped physically.

Respectfully submitted,
B. MACK DRESDEN,
Principal Oneida County Teachers' Training School.

Oneida County Board was the first board in the United States to establish an agricultural representative in its county and I believe it has been demonstrated to the most obstinate that this was a wise move. Since our prompt action, the results of the splendid work of our agricultural representative has stirred up the other counties of the state so that twelve are knocking at the door of the extension department of the university for a like arrangement. More, the little work begun in the little county of Oneida has spread until now the people at Madison believe it will be but a short time before the United States will come to the aid of every county wishing a representative and pay part of the cost of maintenance. The training school board by unanimous resolution voted to ask the university to pay half for the continuance of this splendid service of Mr. Luther another year, which they consent to do and we ask the county board to pay the other half or, in other words, ask the county board to pay $1,000.00 towards Mr. Luther's salary and two hundred fifty dollars for expenses or a total of $1,250.00 per year. The following is Agricultural Rep. Luther's report:

Report of work accomplished in agricultural development by County Representative E. L. Luther since February 7, 1912.

To the County Training School Board:
An office has been established in the court house and equipped with necessary furniture, files, papers, bulletins and other means of information. This is the center of the work and a bureau of information for the people interested. Almost every day from one to four and five calls are made by people and the correspondence is becoming rather heavy, much of it due to help which farmers ask for and considerable due to requests from people who are watching the progress of the work in Oneida county.

The work began with instruction in agriculture done in the County Training school. This covered a period of twenty weeks from February until the school closed in June in which seniors took the work. A short course for farmers' boys was conducted for seven weeks and fifteen boys availed themselves of the school. This work was highly commended by people who visited the school. During the time of the short course a period was set aside for farmers to come to the school and secure help if they desired. A good many farmers called. Late in March a three-day farmers' course was held and was considered one of the most successful and beneficial things accomplished in the county up to that time. Several boys from the high school took work on Saturdays.

On the grounds of the County Fair association trial plots were run as follows: 8 for alfalfa, 4 for liming on clover seeding, 4 for soy beans, 2 for Wisconsin No. 8 corn, 1 for potatoes, and 1 for quack grass eradication.

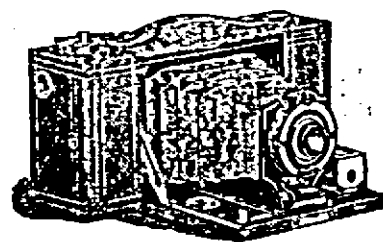

With the exception of the four devoted to clover which burned out in the dry weather in June the plots were very successful. A meeting was held at the plots in August and thirty-five farmers were present. Most of the work done on the plots was done by the County Representative. That the plots were successful is proven from the fact that the corn would run about 75 bushels of ears to the acre and very much of it mature, while the potatoes went at the rate of 360 bushels to the acre. All that was done on these plots could be done by any farmer.

On farms about the county 35 plots of alfalfa have been laid down under conditions more or less right for growing the crop successfully and most of the plots are successful and satisfactory to the owners to date. Most of the farmers who put in alfalfa will extend the crop to more acreage. 60 plots of liming on clover are in operation but the results can not be stated until next season. However in one instance a catch was secured where it has been impossible to get a catch before at least in the last eight or nine years. Twelve plots were devoted to Wisconsin No. 8 corn but only one was very satisfactory due to very poor year for corn. However enough is now done with Wisconsin No. 8 dent corn to show that it can be grown and will prove more and more to be a successful crop. One plot has been put into Wisconsin pedigree wheat in Sugar Camp township and one into Wisconsin pedigree rye in Newbold township.

Meetings have been addressed in all but six townships of the county. In the 25 meetings there has been an attendance around 1200. In all of these meetings a deep interest has been apparent. 125 visits to farms have been made, many of these visits being upon request. In one instance the entire cropping system of the farm was arranged and the system worked out successfully this last summer.

The dairy industry is considered by the college and the County Representative to be the foundation for successful agriculture in this county. Most of the meetings held by the representative has been devoted to this industry. The Wisconsin Live Stock Special train, which came to Rhineland last spring was secured by the representative. The Oneida Guernsey Club, was organized and a Community Breeders' Association was organized at Monico. The association secured a pure-bred Guernsey sire directly through the assistance of the representative. The representative recently helped a farmer to select Guernsey grade cows in Waukesha county and looked up some pure-bred heifers. Several farmers have been induced to use the milk scales and the milk sheet in the endeavor to keep a more businesslike track of their cows' production. Farmers at Robbins and Monico have been shown how to run the Babcock test. While not claiming to have secured the building of four silos this summer, yet it is probable that some credit can be given the representative for instigating the building of them.

The representative worked up the meeting for the Potato Special which came to the county recently. The pro-

Island), that one had to cover personally in carrying on this work, when he thinks of the scattered conditions of the population and the condition of many of the roads, (a road condition due to no one's fault but incident to a new country), when he considers that cosmopolitan race of the population, when he realizes that the work has had to be done with one of the most complex and difficult occupations (for farming is the most complex and difficult), he will see that quite a start has been made in the work of agricultural development in Oneida county in nine months, from February 12 to Nov. 12. There are no doubt some criticisms of the work as there would naturally be with a work as extensive and touching so many people.

But that it has been successful and up to some measure of what might be expected it seen by the way that the work in Oneida county has appealed to those who have investigated it. The State Board of Public Affairs has investigated it and in this recommendation based upon what Oneida county has been able to show urges the legis-made to the present representative in Oneida county. So from what has been done it would seem that a great many people are satisfied that Oneida county has not gone amiss in its endeavor to advance agricultural development.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. L. LUTHER,
County Representative.

In closing this paper, I wish to say it has been my aim to be a conscientious vigorous superintendent and such procedure offends where it is least intended. I must thank the county board for their splendid support during my two terms in office. I must praise the teachers of Oneida county for their cooperation and in closing I must say that the training school board has given much painstaking work to make the training school and that of Agric. Rep. Luther a success. For my part I believe the best interests of both of these two institutions would be served by re-electing both members of the training school board for another three years.

Yours truly,
F. A. LOWELL,
County Superintendent.

THE RHINELANDER HIGH SCHOOL

A DEPARTMENT DEVOTED TO THE DOINGS OF INSTRUCTORS AND STUDENTS.—A REVIEW OF SCHOOL'S HISTORY WITH CUTS OF BUILDINGS

Our High school, somewhat as it stands now, was erected in 1889, and was enlarged to its present size in 1900. From a small school employing two teachers, it has grown to its present condition—the faculty now consisting of a superintendent and ten assistants. The three year course has become a four year one, and work along the line of the commercial branches and the manual arts has developed and become very popular.

For present purposes a brief review of the school for the past five or six years will be sufficient to indicate the rapid growth that has taken place. Five years ago this fall the school numbered 140 pupils, and there were five assistants to the superintendent, Mr. W. H. Collins.

Even then the building and teaching force were inadequate to the needs of the school, and a sixth assistant was added in November of the following year.

At the opening of school in September, 1909, a course in manual training was opened in the lower floor at the High school, under the direction of Mr. Whitcomb. This straight forward manner, certainly has an advantage over one who has not learned the art of self-confidence in speech. It gives him also a fine sense of appreciating good literature, which can be developed only through actual contact with the great authors of the past and present.

By dividing the High school into two rhetorical sections and having recitations every Friday, each pupil will be called upon at least three times during the school year. The outlook for material for the declamatory contests is especially bright this year, and by being able to appear a greater number of times before the school, the pupils gain self confidence.

A number of the Sophomore-Senior division have shown particular talent, and the class play this year promises to be a great success. With careful preparation and study the pupils should be able to make this year's declamatory contests and debates, events to look forward to with great pleasure.

BASKET BALL PROSPECTS 1912-13

At the close of what has been proven to be a rather unsatisfactory foot out and practice throughout the season, even in the face of their defeats, is worthy of praise. After each defeat the team came up with good grace, and practiced faithfully for the next game.

None of the players ever left the squad for any fancied grievance, or failure to get a chance in a game, and altogether too common practice in several teams; this fact alone is worthy of credit.

There were at least two drawbacks to success, but because these drawbacks were overcome before the close of the year, we have reason to believe that the football season was not a failure.

The two drawbacks were lack of training, and lack of fighting spirit in the game.

At the beginning of the season, the players did not realize that to play football in a creditable manner to themselves and to the team, it was necessary to sacrifice some of their so-called pleasures and train. But this necessity was made apparent to them as the season progressed, and toward the end, most of the players made a faithful effort to get into good physical condition.

As to the lack of fighting spirit, we would say that the team lost too easily by getting discouraged at the beginning of the game if the score went against them, and by giving up and failing to fight it out to the finish.

But the team that went on to the field in the final game against Toma-

THE PRESENT HIGH SCHOOL ERECTED IN 1889

NEW HIGH SCHOOL IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION

proved a very satisfactory course. The work along the line of manual arts was increased in the following year by the opening of a domestic science department in the Curran school. During that year work was done only in sewing, but in 1911 the complete course in cooking was offered, and proved a very popular elective. In this same year the commercial branches were first offered in sufficient number to complete a business course, typewriting and stenography being put in. This work has proved very attractive, and as a result we have at the present ten post graduates and adult specialists who are taking this course, as well as a considerable number of lower class men.

During the year 1910-1911 a very successful school paper, the Glwadin, was issued by the high school. For financial reasons the paper was discontinued, but it is hoped that the work may be resumed after the holidays.

Not only along special lines has there been progress, but the same spirit has been manifest in all the work of the school. New equipment has been added in the science department, and more supplementary work for the literary courses is being purchased.

At the present time the average daily attendance is about 215, a gain of over 50 per cent during the past five years. As the report of the state inspector indicated, the classes are too large for the best interests of the individual pupil, and the building is too crowded to be sanitary, yet the work is going on with enthusiasm, and the pupils school? The reasons given are lack of time, a perfectly legitimate excuse in many cases, and a feeling that the pupils WILL NOT come their parents during their recitations. We believe this last reason will be found untenable, if looked into. Pupils in High school are at an extremely self-conscious age and frequently affect reluctance over matters in which they are really very much interested. We believe that this is an instance of it, and that under a show of unwillingness, the parents would be heartily welcomed by their children. At any rate, come and try it. The teachers at least will be glad to see you, and the pupils will soon become accustomed to your presence and lose their self-consciousness.

And above all, come to inspect the regular recitation work. A poor school can make a good showing in times of public exhibition, and little can be judged at such a time of normal conditions. Come and see the daily routine work, and be convinced that pupils and teachers alike are glad to see you, and believe us, they will go with renewed enthusiasm if they feel a living interest behind them.

RHETORICALS

Each year more and more interest is shown in public speaking, and educators are beginning to realize that the training in this line is not only practical but educational.

The aim of rhetorical is to teach the pupil to express himself in a natural, direct, and forcible manner, in public. This training has its value after the pupil has left school, for a man who can talk in an honest, to a successful basket ball season. Although five of last year's team were lost by graduation, there are four men to return who won their "R" in basket ball.

Despite the wealth of material last year, the team had the hard luck to be one of the poorest that Rhinelander has ever had. Last year's defeats may be blamed to poor coaching and lack of training and practice, rather than to lack of material.

With four of last year's men back and with more material than has been in the High school for years, Coach Patrick will be able to have two teams on the field, either of which could replace the other. With the help of Mr. Hill and of Mr. Colburn, who have had experience in basket ball, Coach Patrick should be able to turn out a splendid team.

With three good Irishmen on the team and good prospects for a fourth with suits greener than any shamrock that ever grew in the old sod, and with a Coach named Patrick, it seems as if we ought to accomplish the one great thing that remains for us to do, and that is to defeat Antigo.

FOOT BALL

The football season of 1912, which closed about a month ago, although perhaps not entirely a success in the number of games won, was by no means a failure. Looking at the season at the close, there are many encouraging points to be observed.

During the season there was no lack of material in point of number. For the most part there was always a large squad ready and willing to work. The spirit of the squad, as shown in their willingness to get hawk was a team of which we might be justly proud. They were well trained, in good condition, and fought the game valiantly to the last second, even with the score against them, coming out victorious, and so wiping out the defeat given by the same team at the beginning of the season.

And so, because at the close of the year the team had overcome the drawbacks and difficulties of the early season, and went into the last game a team worthy to represent Rhinelander High school, we consider the football season to have been a successful one.

Following are the names of the players who played enough during the season to entitle them to wear the official R.

Hildebrand (Capt.), Bonnie, Clark Egan, Joslin, Strope, McRae, Sanns Hack, Woodcock, Clorn, Gibson, Dan Jelson, Gager, Taylor, Swedberg, Lewis.

PARENTS' MEETINGS

Among the innovations which have been introduced into our school this year, are the parents' meetings. On account of the large attendance, it was impracticable to ask all of the parents at once; hence the first meeting included only the senior class and their parents. For a beginner, the gathering was a great success. A short program was given, light refreshments were served, and an informal discussion on "A-mentments" followed. This talk was entered into heartily by the parents, and it is hoped that definite results may follow. Similar meetings will be held shortly for the other classes.

When we're all met together,

Music

Although music is not a part of the regular High school course, this important branch is by no means neglected, and the students are given an opportunity for development along this line.

Chorus singing by the whole school is held at least once a week under the direction of Mr. Colburn, and he is making a worthy effort to train and the school to an appreciation of good music. The chorus singing is much enjoyed by the school, and the spirit-

High School Foot Ball Team of 1912

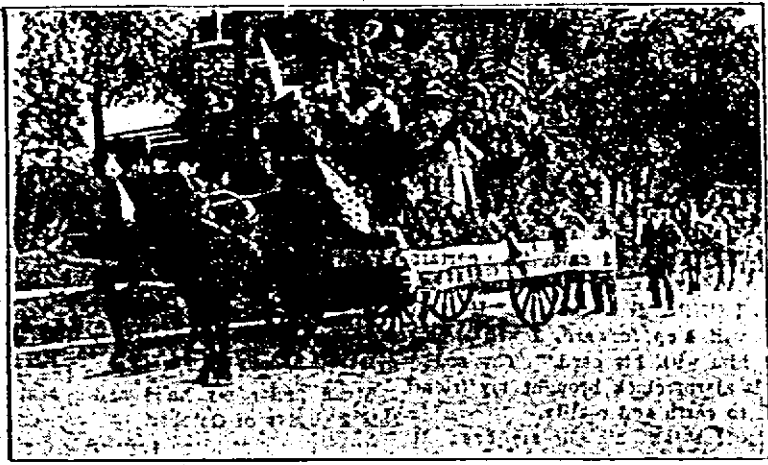

It is in which they take up this work makes the singing worth listening to. Miss Cook, instructor of music in the schools, is organizing a girls' glee club, and Mr. Hill has charge of the boys' club. There is splendid material for these clubs in the High school, and they will doubtless form an important part in school activities during the year.

GRANGE WORK IN ONEIDA COUNTY

Nearly Every Farming Settlement in This Locality is Organized

The Grange has been a power in the nation for nearly fifty years. It is the oldest, strongest and best equipped farmers' organization in the country. In fact, the only one that is national in extent.

For nearly half a century it has been militant force working for the protection and betterment of the farmer and his family and for the fostering and encouragement of agriculture. The Grange is broad enough in its possibilities to meet the needs of all farmers. No one force has, in the past, done so much to improve the condition of the farmer as has the Grange. It is his social center, his school and his only method of making his influence felt in an effective way upon the laws of the state and nation. During all these years the organization has been growing slowly but surely by throughout the Union. Of all the states Wisconsin has seemed most backward. However this year the National Grange has taken up the systematic organization of the state and Oneida was the first county selected for thorough organization and a Subordinate Grange was organized in practically every farming settlement in the county. The following are the locations organized: Pelican Township, Crescent, Pine Lake, McNaughton, Robbins, Woodruff, Vilpocqua, Hixon, Harshaw, Cassian, Prairie Lake, Monico, Three Lakes and Rhinelander. Then in September a County or Pomona Grange was organized to unite the Granges for county work. The following are the principal officers of Western Pomona Grange No. 19 for the western part of Oneida and Vilas counties:

Mrs. Emma M. Wilde, Lecturer for Wisconsin State Grange

Master, Truman Aldrich, Arbor Vitae Overseer, Frank Krupp, Hixon, Lecturer, Mrs. R. J. McIntosh, Crescent.

Secretary, Mrs. E. Riek, Rhinelander Treasurer, Mrs. A. Stapleford, Robbins.

These are the visible signs of Grange work in Oneida county but supposing you, as a potato grower for instance, were called upon to write an article on "Raising Potatoes" in Oneida county when you had, after great pains, succeeded in clearing the land and planting the seed and the plants were only a few above the ground. It would seem a little premature, wouldn't it? So do I feel in writing of the Grange in Oneida county. With great pains a local lodge has been planted in pracpractically every farming settlement in the county and fourteen live organizations are meeting regularly but the Grange harvest is yet to come. And what will the harvest be? I say to you that it will mean better farming, better farms, better farmers, better farm homes, better crops, and better stock. In years to come the lessons of the progress taught in the Grange will mean that we will have farmers and not "land robbers." We will have farms increasing in value and productivity every year. We will have a farmer with a broader vision of life, who will overlook petty neighborhood quarrels and who knowing his neighbor better, will find he is a pretty good fellow after all. We will have live social centers in the county where the rural young people can have the best of social times under the direct supervision of their own fathers and mothers. We will have better and larger crops from the use of better

With a good Master and a good Lecturer, a Grange cannot well be other than a good Grange. In a Subordinate Grange, the Lecturer has more influence in determining the real worth of the Grange, than any other officer. The Lecturer has charge of the educational work of the Grange, and that is, and should be our paramount feature.

Many of our members joined the Grange because of financial benefits they hope to gain. Many of our younger members came seeking entertainment. Both these classes should find what they came seeking for and expecting, but they should be led to seek for greater benefits than these. The great work of the Lecturer should be to instruct these classes in self improvement. In the accomplishment of this work each member presents a different problem. But they each have their avenue of approach. To find this avenue, to sow the seed, and encourage its growth, requires patience tact, and earnestness of purpose. The Grange Lecturer's field is broad its possibilities infinite, but to enter that field and give of one's best effort to fill it, is a good and noble work. Discouragement must be met and overcome. Indifference and a lack of willingness on the part of some members to do their part, must be borne. Results will come slowly but good results must and will come to crown the efforts of the patient and willing Lecturer. The satisfaction of having contributed so much to the moral, social, and educational uplift of a Grange, and a community, will amply repay the good Lecturer for all effort to do something for the time and effort given. Truly we can betterment of our fellows.

The Pomona and Subordinate Lecturers must be leaders in thought and action; they must incite, inspire, the problems of human betterment, each feel that they have a part in the problems of human betterment.

W. S. Jamison, Secretary of Wisconsin State Grange methods and the constant advocacy of better stock breeding is found to bring about the increased use of thoroughbred sires and increased purchase of thoroughbreds.

If you have joined and not attended regularly, are you ready now to take hold? Is your Grange doing its part to bring about farm progress? If not, isn't it partly your fault? Many of our Granges are doing splendid work and if your Grange is not in the forefront, take hold with both hands and put it there.

LECTURE WORK IN ONEIDA COUNTY BY EMMA M. WILDE

When we came into Wisconsin there were so few Granges in the state that no systematic effort had been made to assist the local Lecturers in preparing programs.

We came from Michigan where we have 1000 Subordinate Granges, and Jennie Buell is State Lecturer whom I consider one of the most capable women in the United States for this kind of work and our Michigan Bulletin is looked upon as a model of its kind, so naturally when I was appointed State Lecturer of Wisconsin I first turned my attention to the formation and publication of a Wisconsin Bulletin and our paper is now printed by the New North and entered as second class matter at Rhinelander.

Our subjects have been selected with the assistance of nearly all the Subordinate Lecturers in the state but we ask no Lecturer to follow our outline if they have time and ability to prepare a special program of their own for each meeting. Our helps are for the busy Lecturer. But we do insist upon a program for every meeting.

VALUABLE AID TO ONEIDA FARMERS

Representative Luther Is Doing Much For Agricultural Interests

Oneida county is the first county in the United States to call for a regularly accredited representative of an agricultural college to do extension work in agriculture. In Wisconsin there is a systematic plan to connect the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin with the real tiller of the soil in the endeavor to extend the usefulness of the great school to more than the few who can spend time and money to attend the school. The people pay the bills and in Wisconsin the endeavor is to make the College of Agriculture useful to the people. Oneida county was the first county to take advantage of the plan. This was due to the foresight of the Oneida County Training School Board, the Principal of the Training School and the backing of the County Board. The work began on the seventh of February, 1912. Since that time twenty-five meetings of farmers have been held in various parts of the county and the attendance at these meetings has totaled nearly 1200. Over 125 visits to farms have been made, about half of these upon request. In one case the entire farm system was laid out and the suits of the season upon this farm the Department of Engineering of the

There are no condenseries. For some time it will be impossible to supply enough milk to make cheese making or condensing worth while. The population is somewhat scattered for collecting milk for cheese or condensing. Consequently the butter and cream business is the particular line of dairying that ought to be followed for some time. The Guernsey breed of cattle is advocated as the best for this business. Grading up herds is rapidly progressing. Several pure bred Guernsey sires are in the county and use of them is made pretty generally. There are a few pure bred cows in the county and some of the farmers are thinking of buying more. There are a good many grade Guernsey cows in the county. The Oneida Guernsey Club has been formed to advance the interests of the Guernsey breed. A good strong community breeders' association has been formed at Mount Pleasant. The Wisconsin Live Stock special was secured for this county last spring and about 600 people visited the train. There is a lively interest in dairy cattle.

The development of the dairy industry looks to feeding up on the farm the forage crops that can be grown in great abundance. There will be simply no limit to the crops of clover, alfalfa and corn silage that can be produced on the farms of Oneida county. Several new silos have been built this summer and plans are being laid to show how to make some simple and cheap silos for men on small farms and of limited means while next summer a set of 125 silos will be at the disposal of the County Representative for exclusive use in Oneida county. These will be furnished through the Department of Engineering of the saw in the ware houses were by far the best that he had seen in commercial quantities.

Such is in the main the plan for the agricultural extension work for the county.

On the grounds of the County Fair Association trial plots have been run with alfalfa, liming on clover seedling, corn, soy beans and potatoes. With the exception of the clover plot which was burned out by the hot weather the plots were very successful and much benefit came to the farmers who saw these plots.

From February 12 until the latter part of June the County Representative taught agriculture in the training school. From Feb. 12 to about April 1, a short course for farmer-boys was conducted. During this time a period was set aside for farmers and quite a number of farmers came and consulted with the representative. Late in March a Farmers' Course of three days was carried on and this was largely attended and very successful. Work was done also in the county teachers' institute at Minocqua in November and it is the plan of the County Superintendent of Schools to make use of County Representative in the county institutes. Thus while the real farmers are being helped directly on their farms the younger generation will be helped through direct instruction of teachers.

As one travels about the county he notices improved practice in farming. He sees farming being forecasted by farmers. Land is not plowed just the day before it is to be used but farming is planned farther than it is done by the hand to mouth method. New clearings are being made. Old stumpy fields are being stumped. Rocks are being drawn off. Better tillage is practiced. And above all there is a feeling of progress and enthusiasm among the people.

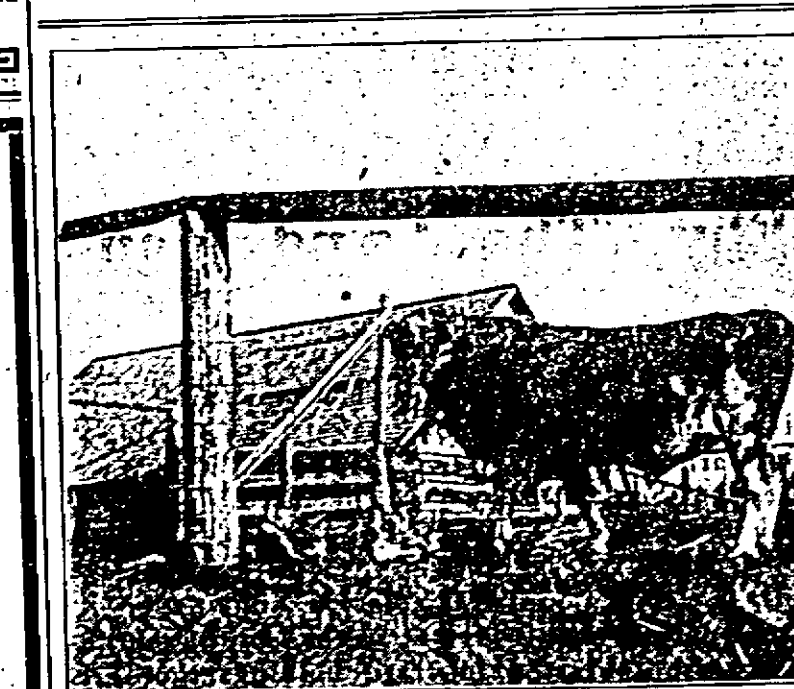

No one will claim that the County Representative accomplishes all things or that he can farm all of the farms. But what is claimed for the plan is that he furnishes a common medium through which farmers may work and co-operate. It is a plan which involves no expensive buildings or great outlay in apparatus. A large teaching force is not required. It furnishes some one to be on the look out all the time and to be ready at all time to help and if he cannot do the thing that is needed he can connect the farmer with the College of Agriculture. One thing he can do is to furnish enthusiasm and keep interest up. It is certain that individual farmers are coming to realize that the representative can help them. For almost every day some one interested in farming or in farms calls at the office in the court house.

All in all it would seem that the nine months trial, while not accomplishing everything and not instituting perfect agriculture in Oneida county, had done enough to show that the trial is worth while. This seems to be the conclusion of a large number of people.

A Glimpse Into the Cow Stables on Farm of Wm. Olson, Town of Pelican.

were successful. On several farms special crops have been discussed and fields cultivated accordingly. About thirty-five plots of alfalfa have been laid down under as nearly proper conditions for successful growth of the crop as possible. In almost every instance satisfaction is expressed with the outlook for growing alfalfa successfully. About sixty trial plots are under way with liming on clover seedling. While it is a little early to tell whether these trials are successful, yet in one instance a seeding has been secured where it has been impossible before. A plot each of Wisconsin pedigree rye and wheat have been sowed and in the coming spring Wisconsin pedigree barley will be put in and also Wisconsin pedigree oats.

A Standard Bred Guernsey Bull at Brown Bros. Tamarack Farm

The general farming scheme as advocated by the County Representative is to develop the dairy industry. Oneida county has one creamery. There are no cheese factories. The demand for whole milk is small. Markets for whole milk are distant. The great cash crops. This year Oneida county cabbage has been better than that that was recently seen from car windows down in the central part of the state. The professor in charge of the potato special which recently came to Oneida county said that the potatoes that he

CIGARS!

Many people think that a cigar, to be good, must be made in some factory a long ways off. This is a mistaken idea, as a manufacturer in Rhineland can buy just as good tobacco as one in Boston or New York. And the tobacco is what makes the cigar. I do not spend a lot of money covering billboards with mammoth posters, or invest in high priced bands. Posters and fancy bands do not smoke very well except on a bonfire.

The saving on advertising matter means more money in quality, and quality is what counts. I have been making the "Commercial Club" for several years and judging by sales they must suit the smokers. I have a few put up in boxes of twenty-five which will make very nice Christmas presents for men.

Now, everybody get in line and call for the "Commercial Club," a home product.

AGRICULTURAL IN TRAINING SCHOOL

This Course of Study Teaches
Boys to Become Practical Farmers.

Although the County Training School is conducted for the most part to prepare teachers to instruct in the common school branches properly, the school also does a good work for education and agriculture by instructing in things that find real use on the farm.

AGRICULTURE IN THE COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL

The Short Course for Farmers' Boys

The boys who take this course range in age from thirteen to nineteen years of age and in public school attainment from the fifth to the twelfth grade. Consequently the work must be of a nature that it will appeal to quite a varied condition of mind and taste. Little regular text book work is attempted but the boys start with a real piece of farm work that can be done with the hands. All can start on the same footing and equal. No far-fetched work is done but all that is done upon real farm demands or will meet real farm needs. Thus the work with real farm tools consists in learning how to use the square, saw, hammer, plane, drawshave and vise in making corn testers, nail boxes, milk stools, corn curing devices, and simple apparatus for the school. The Babcock test starts the boys in the dairy work. Milk is not furnished but each boy has to secure milk from real cows. So a lot of community cow testing is done. The reader will notice that this work is real and something that men ought to do. That is why it is so effective in catching the interest of the boy. The milk scales and milk sheet are studied and in this work the boys get their first real notions of decimal fractions and percentage though most of them had studied the text book kind. A great deal of corn is tested out for farmers. This is surely real work. Many samples of small grains are tested for purity and thus many farmers are saved from sowing weed seed. Germination tests are also run and farmers are saved from sowing poor seeds. Several different crops are studied. Real letters are written to get real papers, bulletins and catalogs. Simple farm arithmetic and farm accounts are taken up. From the few things mentioned it will be seen what the short course does. The boys go out from this course enthusiastic for farm work. A great deal of the work done in the school is seen being carried out on the farms. The course for the winter of 1923 is planned to be equally interesting and helpful. It will begin in January. All inquiries cheerfully answered.

Teachers' Course

The course in agriculture in the Training School proper is based upon the real needs of agriculture in Oneida County and seeks to acquaint the teachers of rural schools with real things that may be done in rural schools to help agriculture and education in Oneida County. It is believed that a general course in agriculture is not what is needed. Rather by selected lessons in a few things that can be done in rural schools it is believed the best approach to agricultural education is secured. The Babcock test, milk scales and milk sheet, corn selecting and corn curing devices, corn judging and corn testing, potato varieties and potato judging, common weeds, weed seed, and weed eradication and a study of clean milk are some of the things that can be done by rural school pupils in helping to advance agriculture in Oneida County. It is believed that if all know these few things rural education and agriculture will be helped a great deal. There is no need of teachers longer being without knowledge of common seeds and the common things of the farm.

Oneida County Training School
Has Ten Weeks in Observation

In order that a Training School may be approved by the State Superintendent its course of study must contain at least ten weeks' work in observation and practice. The Oneida County Teachers' Training School requires twenty weeks of observation and practice. Arrangements have been made with the Board of Education of Rhinelander, whereby this work is carried on in the city schools.

The purpose of the work in observation is to give the student some idea of the way to conduct a recitation, and to manage a school. The class in observation accompanied by a Supervisor of Practice, watches a city teacher give a model lesson, and later discusses the work. Some of the observation work is done in connection with the professional studies. When the class is studying Professional Reading, or Methods in Reading, it goes from time to time to see city teachers give lessons in reading. When the class studies Methods in Language, it goes to see model language lessons. Immediately before beginning practice work each student observes the teacher in charge of the grade in which he is to practice with a view to studying the teachers' method and becoming acquainted with the pupils.

Before a student is eligible for practice teaching he must have had a thorough review of all the common branches, he must have studied methods of teaching geography, arithmetic, reading, language and history he must have had some work in the theory of teaching, and as has been previously stated, he must have observed the work of the city teachers. The practice work is done in the city grades, most of it being done in the grades occupying the lower floor of the Training School Building, though at the present time three students are working at the North Side Building. The purpose of the practice teaching is to test the student's power to put into practice the theory previously taught. Every student must teach one subject for ten weeks in the primary grades. At the expiration of ten weeks, he takes another subject in the intermediate grades in order to give him experience with pupils of varying ages. For example: If a student teaches reading in the first or second grades for one quarter, he takes geography or arithmetic in the fifth or sixth grade the following quarter.

Each student prepares a daily lesson plan which he submits to a Supervisor of Practice. This plan is carefully examined, and if approved is carried out. If the plan is not accepted, it must be corrected before the lesson is given. The student is very closely supervised while teaching. Written reports, commenting on the methods used, and on the management of the class are given to the student when his work has been observed. These criticisms mentioning weak points and suggesting ways of improving the work, are carried to a supervisor, who talks the work over with the student. If a student fails to do twenty weeks satisfactory practice teaching he must do more work. Not until he can satisfy the Training School faculty and the Training School Board as to his fitness to teach can a student be graduated from the school.

The practice teacher's work is inspected by the city teacher in whose room the student is working by the City and County Superintendent, and by the members of the Training School faculty. The results obtained in the city grades by practice teachers show that the pupils under their make great progress. By sectioning a class, each child receives more individual attention than would otherwise be possible. The City Superintendent realizes this fact, for it was at his request that the Training School sent their practice teachers to the North Side in order to relieve overcrowded grades. School Boards sometimes hesitate to employ a teacher without experience. It is true that in most cases Training School graduates are not experienced, but no student who does twenty weeks of successful practice teaching is inexperienced. Such a student is better prepared to do successful work than some teachers who have had experience, but no professional training.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION FOR 1913

The Youth's Companion appeals to every interest of family life, from housekeeping to athletics. It begins with stories of youthful vim and vigor, with articles which disclose the secrets of successful play in the great games, with charming tales of life at the girls' colleges. But The Companion does not surrender these readers when they have entered the more serious paths of life. Mothers will welcome the page for little children and the weekly doctor's article. Fathers will find the important news of the day as it is, and not as it is rumored to be. The entire household will appreciate the sketches which touch gently on common follies or caricature eccentricity. In short, for less than four cents a week, The Companion brings into the home clean entertainment, pure inspiration, fine ideals, increase of knowledge.

Names rarely seen in tables of contents will be found in The Companion's Announcement for 1913, which will be sent upon request—with samples of the paper, to those not familiar with it.

Every new subscriber for 1913 will receive free all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1912; also free, The Companion Window Transparency and Calendar for 1913, in rich, translucent colors—the most beautiful of all Companion souvenirs.

I have a large list of timber and cut over lands in northern Wisconsin that I am offering at bargains, suitable to every one. Having been in the land business for the last 25 years I am in a position to know all the good bargains throughout several Northern Counties, especially Oneida County. In fact, I know every tract of land that is for sale in the County and I am also interested in large holdings that I completely control. I can also furnish abstracts of title, County Plat books and maps, also Township plats, and reliable estimates and other information pertaining to all land matters.

VILLAGE OF SAXON HAS COSTLY FIRE

Seven Buildings Are In Ruins
With A Financial Loss Of $60,000

The greater portion of the village of Saxon north on the Northwestern railway is in ruins as the result of a fire which entailed a loss of $60,000. The Ironwood Times gives this account of the blaze:

Seven buildings with all their contents were entirely consumed and the business section of the town practically wiped out. The fire started in DeFer's store building about 1 o'clock in the morning and it is thought from an overheated stove. With no means of fire protection the flames spread rapidly from the store building to the warehouse and then across the street where five buildings in a row were practically reduced to ashes. Practically every man, woman and child in the village were out fighting fire and it was only by the hardest kind of work that the depot was saved from destruction. Many of the volunteer fire fighters were dressed only in their night clothes, as the flames spread so rapidly that persons living immediately adjacent to the burning buildings were unable to do more than escape from their bed rooms before the flames were upon them, as danger was so near that there was no thought except of personal salvation. It was after four o'clock before the fire was sufficiently under control to permit the fire fighters to draw a free breath, and despite falling walls and danger from explosions of canned goods and powder stored in some of the buildings, there were no injuries of any consequence.

INVESTIGATE M. W. A. Rock Island, Ill., December 5. Announcement was made today at the offices of the Modern Woodmen of America that the insurance departments of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, New York and Rhode Island will begin an investigation into the insurance affairs of their order. The action was decided upon in New York, the announcement said; at the request of the Woodmen, on account of the decision of Judge Shirley, of Springfield, Ill., that the new Woodmen rates are unreasonable and unnecessary.

The New North gives the cheapest price of any firm in the city on engraved visiting cards, engraved announcements or invitations. Mrs. Miller left Tuesday for Three Lakes. She was accompanied as far as Mexico by her granddaughter, Miss Jean Conway. Geo. Overton of Oshkosh, a representative of the Grimmer Land Co. was in the city Friday and called at the High school to visit his former school superintendent, W. F. Colburn.

Mr. Albin Engelbrecht hangs out his shingle as a civil engineer. Mr. Engelbrecht comes to Rhinelander from Sweden well recommended as to knowledge and a large experience in his profession. The city has already engaged him to make a plan of the city water plant. Mr. Engelbrecht was city engineer in the old country nearly twelve years.

VALUABLE BLACK FOX SOLD HERE

Matt Kristensen Disposed Of Rare Animal Last Sunday

A silver black fox, one of the rarest and most valuable species of the animal kingdom was on exhibition at the store of Matt Kristensen, the local fur dealer, Sunday. The animal had been caught by John Pego, an Indian near Armstrong Creek, about four years ago, and reared until it is now one of the most highly prized animals in the fur trade. The fur in this one animal is barely sufficient to make an ordinary sized muff. The black fox is a freak, in the same class as the white deer, and is seldom seen. The animal was the object of admiration of many who called to see it during the day. Mr. Kristensen sold the animal to a representative of a Pennsylvania fox farm, who arrived Sunday, and departed the same day with his precious burden. The value of the most perfect specimens, such as this was, is in the neighborhood of a thousand dollars.

FIRST ORE FIND HERE SEPT. 1892

Discovery of Iron Ore On Old Stapleton Homestead over 20 years ago

Just at this time when the discoveries of iron ore near Rhinelander are attracting wide spread attention present day readers will find interest in reading of another ore strike on the old homestead of Matt Stapleton over twenty years ago. The following brief mention of the discovery is from the September 23, 1892 edition of the New North: If the indications develop as favorably as anticipated, a valuable mineral deposit has been found near Rhinelander. It is on the claim of Matt Stapleton, and there is no question but what iron ore in large quantities exists there. A number of samples have been sent away to be assayed and on the report of experts depends whether or not the work of development of the find will begin. If the ore proves to be what local judges of such an article say it is, then extensive preparations for mining and shipping will be made. All will hope that Matt has struck a bonanza and that it will prove all that is now thought.

BOXING NOTES IN 1891

When Rhinelander was in its infant years there was a large sprinkling of the sporting fraternity here and pugilistic contests were frequent. The following boxing notes are taken from the New North, May 21, 1891:

Jimmy Davis, the light weight fighter whose colors were lowered here a couple of years ago by the "Cockney" and who is now living at Racine, is to fight a pug named Tomahawk, on June 7th, within twenty-five miles of Rhinelander. They are to fight at 133 pounds for a purse of $400.

Daniels, the local middle weight, will accommodate Tommy Ryan at any time for any reasonable amount.

Dave Johnson and Frank Brouette, of this city, are to fight some time during the month of June, for a purse Brouette is in training at Daniels' under the latter's tutelage. Johnson has not yet gone into training.

CHAS. F. BARNES FIRST PUBLISHER

Founder Of New North Relates
How He Started Paper
In Year 1883

The first issue of the New North made its appearance on the 7th of December, 1882. The office was located in a two story frame store building at the southwest corner of Brown and Davenport streets, where the Jacobson store now stands. The outfit was delivered here several weeks earlier but could not be set up until the completion of the building, which was one of the first erected.

Rhineland at that date was the supply point (and northern railroad terminal) for a large area and two thousand or more men reached their camps, scattered throughout the upper Wisconsin river district from this place. The actual residents of the new and crude little hamlet, however, were few, yet to accommodate the army of woodsmen, prospective railway men, etc., the need for hotel accommodations were more pressing than today. The Rapids House, McDermott House (later Arlington) and the Webb House (afterward Onelda House) were all running in full blast by the first of the new year and so overstayed were they that the lumberjacks many times slept as thick as they could lie upon the office floor at the latter place.

Besides the hotels, three general stores, a hardware store, meat market, wagon shop, and two blacksmith shops constituted the business place.

Tolman, Conro & Co., operated a small portable mill followed by the erection of their large mill the following summer. Brown Bros occupied the winter months in getting out the timber work for their saw mill which also went into operation during the summer of '83.

The business men, though few in number, accorded the new paper excellent support and of those largely interested none gave more substantial assistance than the enterprising officials of the old Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western Ry.

The writer still possesses a long list of flattering notices from the press of the state commenting upon the typographical appearance and the then very pertinent name chosen for the little 6-col. folio published under the many difficulties incident of in a new-fledged hamlet fifty miles away from its nearest competitor, deep in the heart of the great forests that then covered northern Wisconsin in almost untrodden continuity.

During the three decades that have passed since Vol. 1, No. 1, was first taken from the types many changes have come to Rhinelander and this part of the state. But a pitiful remnant remains of the vast forests and in their stead a fast increasing agricultural development is following together with varied manufactures. The factory hand and the farmer has nearly succeeded the lumberjack.

With these changes has naturally come a steadily lessening number of the real "old-timers." As nearly as history rests the feeling that the writer can recall of those who spent the winter of '82-'83 in Rhine-

Mike Delair, the Poverty Hill detective, doesn't want his name in the papers any more. In fact he came round and served notice that the next time any mention was made of his peculiar gymnastics or his brother's love affairs, he would climb around and lick the man that printed it. Consequently we don't say anything about it.—New North, Aug. 21, 1890.

was frequently here and soon after moved to Rhinelander.

J. C. Curran and family, who moved to Everett, Wash., several years since, were really the first settlers. Mr. Curran having come here more than twenty years prior to the founding of the town and had built and was occupying the place near the mouth of the Pelican river later sold to Jas. Blackmer.

The many incidents relative to Rhinelander and its early settlers, the legislative struggle to secure a new county and the development of its industries would demand more space than is available in this issue, but with all who have participated in its history rests the feeling that the writer can recall of those who spent the winter of '82-'83 in Rhine-

Carpenters are putting in some quick time on Tolman, Conro & Co's mill. The building is being enclosed this week and will be ready for the machinery in a short time.—New North, May 3, 1883.

Sheffy Clark's hotel is becoming quite popular. There are now ten regular boarders. Six of them were sent down from Eagle River; two for stealing a pig, one for jumping a board bill, and the other painting the town red. He used a big gun for a paint brush.—New North, Sept. 4, 1890.

Milwaukee has some sharps who have buried imitation diamonds in the Newhall ruins, now being removed and when unearthed they are sold to unsuspecting parties at apparently great bargains.—New North, May 3, 1883.

No coster, neater or better kept store can be found than the new quarters of A. C. and W. P. Jewell opposite the Rapids House. They have an excellent stock of drugs, medicines, and groceries and are bound to build up a fine business.—New North, Nov. 29, 1883.

Duncan McGregor, who recently bought some 25 forties of pine land on the north branch of the Pelican river is in town. He thinks it highly probable that a mill will be built near the Sault siding four miles east of this place. There is a heavy body of timber lying in the vicinity which can be placed in the market to the best advantage by so doing.—New North, Nov. 29, 1883.

SHEPARD'S FAMOUS 'HODAG'

A history of Rhinelander would not be complete without referring to the Bovine Spiritus, or Black Hodag, discovered and exploited by E. S. Shepard of this city. The species is now extinct, but during the time of its existence made its discoverer famous from one end of the land to the other. It is even now one of the first things strangers ask about, when coming to the city, and any one from Rhinelander traveling in any part of the country is always asked about Shepard and his famous Hodag.

Order for Hearing Petition to Determine Heirship and Descent, Of Land

State of Wisconsin, County Court for Oneida County.

In the matter of the real estate of Minnie Weenick, deceased. On reading and filing the petition of Mary Keeler of Town of Oneida, representing among other things that Minnie Weenick, late of Town of Oneida, County of Oneida, died intestate on 16th day of November, A. D. 1907, and that said Minnie Weenick, deceased, left no personal property in this state which would be proper assets for the payment of debts, for that more than three years have elapsed since the death of said Minnie Weenick, and that no administration of her estate has been granted in this state, and praying for the judgment of the Court finding and determining who are all the heirs of said Minnie Weenick, deceased, and what are the respective rights and interests of the parties in the title of such decedent in said lands, etc. It is ordered, that said petition be heard at a term of this Court to be held at Court House in the City of Rhinelander, within and for said county, on the First Tuesday of February A. D. 1913.

It is further ordered, that notice of the time and place of such hearing be given by publication of such notice at least three successive weeks before said day, in the New North weekly newspaper published at Rhinelander, in said county.

Dated December 3rd, 1912.
By the Court,
H. F. STELLM, County Judge.

General Notice of Hearing

In Probate, Oneida County Court: Notice is hereby given that at a special term of the County Court to be held in Rhinelander, in said county on the 26th day of December 1912, at 10 o'clock, a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered: The application of John J. Imbold, to prove and admit to probate the last will and testament of August Krueger, deceased. Dated November 25, 1912.

Action on the purchase of several miles of river frontage for park purposes was deferred for one month by the city council at the December meeting. An offer to sell the river frontage, an island known as the "Razor Back" and riparian rights for $1,000 was received from the Bradley company through R. B. Tweedy. City Attorney G. M. Ladysmith—

August Hoeft was seriously injured while working in the paper mill. He was putting on a belt when some unexplained way either his coat sleeve or hand was caught between the belt and pulley and his body was carried several times around the shaft. His right arm was broken, his wrist dislocated and hand badly torn. Four ribs were broken, one lung punctured, and the ankle joint fractured. At last reports he is getting along as well as could be expected, but is still in a critical condition.

New London—

The probabilities are that Waupaca county will have to have a new jail. The board of control of Wisconsin has condemned the present structure and given the county until January first, 1914, to satisfy their demands. They may be satisfied with a remodeling of the jail part of the structure that does not amount to a complete rebuilding. The board left the matter in charge of a committee consisting of Chairman Putnam, Clerk Shoemaker, Treasurer Darling and Supervisors Chap in and Potts, with full power to act on Tomahawk—

J. L. Wakefield, President of the Tomahawk Free Library Association stated to the Common Council in regular session that it agreeable to the Council all the property of the Association would be turned over to the city. Mr. Wakefield said that although the association is in a flourishing condition, the library should be the property of and should be conducted by the city, as it is a public institution in which all or nearly all the residents of Tomahawk are interested.

FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT

Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern Railroads

The paper and pulp manufacturers of Wisconsin have filed a complaint against the C. & N. W. Railway Company with the Railroad Commission asking for lower freight rates on pulpwood. The hearing will be held at Madison on Dec. 11. The saw log shippers of Wisconsin, as represented by the Northern Hemlock & Hardwood Manufacturers' Association have been made a party to the case, and it is expected that a large number of shippers will be at the hearing.

Railroad ties and poles of all kinds are in strong demand at present, this being largely due to the fact that practically every railroad company in the country is doing more or less improvement work, while many of them are reconstructing both their railroad and pole lines.

The state railroad commission, in response to requests from railroad officials, has given an opinion on the law requiring railroad locomotives other than those required for switching purposes, to be equipped with headlights strong enough to enable the engineer to see an object as large as a man 800 feet away. In its opinion the commission says: "None of the oil headlights fulfill the requirements of the law."

"The commercial acetylene headlight, with the 18-inch reflector and equipped with a cluster of three burners, each having a capacity of one-half cubic foot per hour, fulfills the requirements of the law, provided the reflector is kept well polished and in good condition."

The railroads will doubtless ask for a modification of the law at the coming session of the legislature.

The Soo railroad will spend between $30,000 and $40,000 on a general overhauling of its ore dock at Ashland this winter. The work will commence as soon as the material arrives. The Soo broke all records for carrying ore last season and from present indications next year will be another banner year and the officials are getting prepared.

Prompted by reports of serious accidents, the state industrial commission has issued a tentative order addressed to the railroad companies operating in Wisconsin requiring that flat cars used for loading logs be equipped by the owners with stakes and stake pockets so constructed that they can be released from the opposite side of the car to that from which the unloading is done. A public hearing on the order will be held here December 16.

Buy Land Near a Growing City Like RHINELANDER

And you will make no mistake, the city of Rhinelander is known as the city of beautiful Homes, it is the center of a rapidly developing dairy section, fertile lands, good roads, good pure water, and an abundance of grass and clover growing everywhere, sure crops every year, good roads, good schools, rural routes, telephones, fine lakes, good fishing and hunting. We have the game here and plenty of it to go around, all the farms I have visited lately I find a deer or two hanging in the barn, and a hundred or two of venison at this time of the year means something, but the main thing is to quit talking about what one expects to do, and really do something, get busy and investigate the propositions while they are being passed around and take one, land is advancing in price every year, and is advancing faster now than ever before. There has been more land sold in Oneida County to actual settlers in 1912 than ever before. One of the many reasons is, Rhinelander is the home of an Agricultural Expert, Prof. E. L. Luther, sent here by the state of Wisconsin, and paid by the County and State, it is his business to help new settlers and those that are already here, his advice and help has done more to help Oneida County Farmers succeed the past year than any thing else that could possibly have been done. The county has raised his salary and he stays with us, he knows what we want here, when we want it and how to get it, he is helping all to get started right, and he will help you if you come. It is said that land is the foundation of all wealth. Why not start the foundation here near Rhinelander?

Bargain one---120 acres 4 miles from Rhinelander, log buildings 7 acres cleared, good soil fine lake front, 1000 cords of wood on the land, price $1500, terms.

Bargain number two---80 acres 2 miles from Rhinelander, 2000 cords wood, price $1000.

A GOOD PLAN

An exchange says that a good way to reduce the high cost of living is to read the advertisements in the local paper. Look over these advertisements each week and you will find many ways in which you can cut down your living expenses. Some folks make it their business to read the advertisements each week. These folks learn what the bargains are and where to look for them. You don't have to shop right now. But read the advertisements to find out who offers bargains, being sure you can get them at such a place at any time. In that way you will save both time and money.

A CLOSE INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK

Will reveal its superior quality and convince you of the wide difference that really exists in lumber. You may imagine that lumber is all the same, but you were never more mistaken in your life, if you imagine that. There's as much difference between two boards that pass for the same grade as there is between a plug and a thoroughbred.

We invite a critical examination of our stock, simply because we know it to be much better than the average. QUALITY: That's our hobby. When we sell you a bill of lumber we want to know positively that you will be satisfied that you've got the best your money will buy, and will come to us when you want something else in building material.

REMINISCENCES OF EUGENE SHEPARD

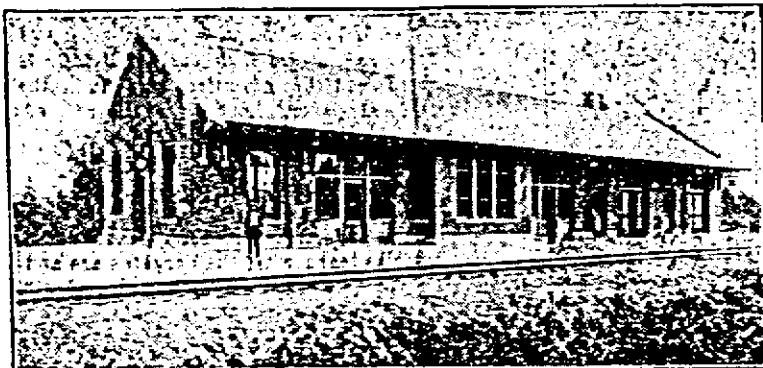

Old and Well Known Citizen First Came Here Away Back In 1870

Away back in 1870 A. A. Webber of New London rescued the writer from a job on a farm and made a cruiser, cook, compass man, beast of burden and canoe man of him. After traveling up the Wisconsin river to Eagle river we returned and arrived at what was then called Pelican Rapids, and camped on the popular grove point at the mouth of Lake Creek, where Tolman and Conro built their saw mill. I came down and explored the flat country where the city now stands. The land was covered with a thick growth of Jack pine and larger long slim Norway. Mr. John C. Curran had settled at the mouth of the Pelican river some 16 years before and had a clearing made where the City park now stands. He was engaged buying furs of the Indians and in a small way logging in company with L. S. Coon of Wausau or Berlin. About a dozen yoke of oxen were grazing around the country and about a dozen families of Indians lived in tepees around the place and worked as Indians usually do at intervals.

Martin Lynch lived down the river about a mile or two. He and Mr. Curran were the only white men living on the river between Eagle River and Grand Father Falls at that time. The Milwaukee Lake Shore & Western Railway was pushing north for somewhere on Lake Superior so one day I was at the Land Office. I found a goodly chunk of land had been purchased by that Stevens Point family of Browns and A. T. Anderson, an uncle of theirs. I had met Mr. Anderson Brown on exploring trips up river and on the stages coming back and forth. The Ry. Co. built a line into the place in the fall of 1882, and I made up my mind to be there also on the ground floor. The Ry. engineers surveyed the village site and called it Rhinelander after the then president of the Ry. Co. Mr. Frederick W. Rhinelander, and as soon as I could get my crew together I shipped for Rhinelander and settled in the center of the city which then consisted of five or six tents, one quite long. One of two tents set end to end was the first hotel owned and operated by Thos. McDermott

Sr. I stayed there that night and moved on to Shepard's lake next morning. I watched the commencement of the city of Rhinelander. It grew like magic. In a few days the Ry. Co. got across the creek bridge and laid the iron on the finished grade to where the C. & N. W. depot now stands and shored a box car off onto skids for a depot, put in a wye and a side-track and were hauling in all kinds of things. Brown Bros. came and cleared their mill site and put up a boarding house. Tolman and Corro of Oshkosh came about the same time and commenced on their mill site and also built a boarding house. Coon and Chafee came and pitched their tent on the Rapids House site. They had a building up in a very short time, which was used that winter for a hotel and it was full all of the time until the Rapids House was ready for occupancy and then both of them were chuck full of people. There were buildings going up on every hand, Casper Faust came and built a frame building where the State Bank now stands. He Barnes' father built a drug store away up Brown street on the side and put in a stock. Jim step out quick and leave the premises like an honest man. Most of the activity in summer time was at the mills getting up dwelling places, planing mills, lumber sheds and trams and stringing booms. A man by the name of Reeder was the first depot agent and W. E. Ashton was the next and stayed in that position some years, brought his family and built a house, where Mr. Peterson now lives. A Newell built among the first houses. Many residences were built the succeeding summer. Billy Beers was the first postmaster and he built a store and postoffice as well as a house where it now stands. John DeVoin built a store where John Reardon's drug store now stands and is the same building. He also built a house where Mr. Robbins lived a long time. Pat Gleason built the house where he now lives in, and Charlie Barnes had built a printing office and a house as well as did many others all every intent on making Rhinelander their built future home. We only had a town Mer-organization and had to struggle some Char to get that. The country was all Lin coin Co. from near Wausau to the right state line, and the boundaries were very narrow. But we finally got set

New Passenger Station of the Soo Line

Crossen of Wausau came and put off into a town by ourselves and a drug store about where the post-office now is. A man from Stevens Point came and built the Oneida House. Brown Bros. and Tolman & Co. got their mills going some time during the spring and summer of 1883. After the railway got to running into Rhinelander, many down river lumbermen made this their headquarters. The Mich. Lumber Co. logged on Rocky Run and built a tote road out NW 35 miles. Menasha W. W. Co. built tote roads south and logged into Pelican river. McCord and Wright and John Loper had camps on the Wisconsin river at Big St. Germain Creek 30 miles north, and it made lively times. No sa-loons were allowed on the village plat or on any of Brown Bros.' property. McCrossen sold out of his drug stock something like 1800 bottles of Hostetters Bitters. Dr. McIndoe came and set up his practice and a man had to be pretty sick to get a prescription containing any bug juice, and this stringency was the cause of much suffering unless a man came in nearly frozen and was posted right up to date. If he was, he would sneak off by himself alone to Faust's hardware store over the door under the stairs and step inside when Mrs. Faust was not looking and draw a glass of something in the liquid form that tasted like corn juice, make a deposit of 10c on the head of the barrel and make his own change from what he found there by the dim light of a lantern hanging on a nail and listen very quietly for customers in the store and

OLD TIME JUSTICE

Judge Parish took justice to make some rather pointed remarks to the jury which brought in a verdict of guilty in Clark's case yesterday. He referred to the fact that it was the first conviction of any criminal in Oneida county. He said he hoped it would be the opening of a new era in the judicial history, under which criminals would receive their just deserts and not be favored with leniency from juries. District Attorney Billings expressed the opinion that circuit court here was nothing more than a jail delivery. Outsiders have blamed the state's cases and the state's officers have blamed the juries. —New North, April 24, 1920.

SOCIAL LIFE WHEN TOWN WAS YOUNG

Interesting Contribution Furnished By Mrs. M. J. Chafee

My arrival in Rhinelander occurred the same month that the New North was born. Being one of the first white squaws in Rhinelander, I had plenty of opportunity to participate in all the social diversions of the time. There were not many of us, but everybody was so congenial and willing to join in that life was anything but monotonous. Everyone felt like the fellow who was going to be hung. "They just couldn't do anything unless he was there."

The old schoolhouse, the first one in the city, was the first center of social life. It was located where the present High School stands, and now forms part of a dwelling house directly south of the present building. It was there that the first social was held. It wasn't a class or church affair, but everybody just went, making it a community affair. The nearby hill afforded much amusement as a toboggan slide. Every form of toboggan and ski was used, the common barrel stave being very popular.

When any considerable number went for a ride, a common means of transportation were the slab dump carts used at the mills. Everyone stood up and were packed in like sardines. The usual method of unloading the party was for the driver to pull the pin and precipitate the whole bunch on to the ground in a mess somewhat resembling the mixup that occurs in a football scrimmage.

The church life was largely a community affair at first. The first services were held in the old school house, and the first church erected was later used as the electric light plant. The Congregationalists and the Catholics alternated in holding services, Deacon Tibbets officiating for the former and Father Tack for the latter.

Our first Fourth of July celebration had all the trimmings that go with the usual Fourth wedding up with a dance in the evening. The lights for this were furnished by taking the headlights off from the afternoon train. The music for the occasion was furnished by Jim Keefe, who was nothing if not original, there being no certainty that a quadrille would not wind up with a waltz music.

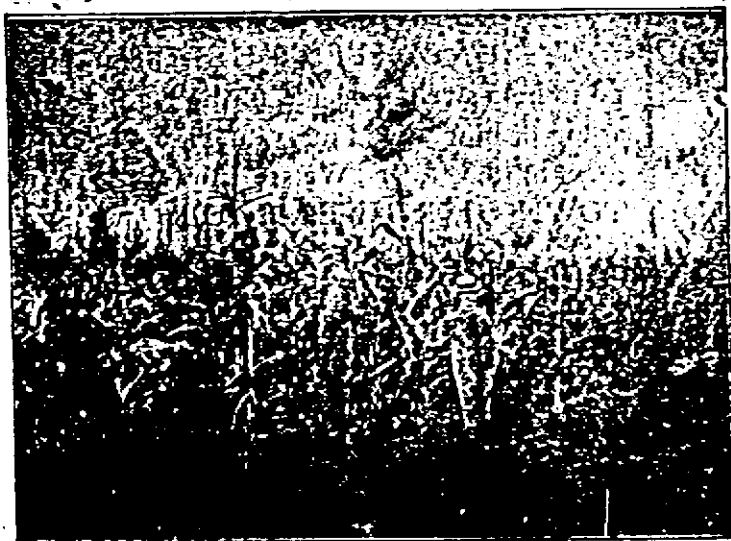

One of the interesting historical incidents of the town was the naming of Pig Town, the nickname that has always stuck to the north side. It was all caused by Tom McDermott's pigs, who went over to the north side and made their daily rounds of the boarding houses, returning at night well fed. The part south of the present C & N. W. depot was then known as Poker Flats for reasons which the reader may easily guess.

There were other activities in the town with its Indians all around, and hundred of lumberjacks during the winter and spring, of which others can write better than I. Our social life today is more complex, and we have all the conveniences that the world affords, but certainly none has more real enjoyment than we had in those early days.

SHUT UP YOUR COWS

There is an ordinance in force which forbids cattle running at large after the 1st day of November. It is entirely unobserved this year and a number of citizens, property owners think they have arrived at a point where forbearance ceases to be a virtue. If cows are allowed to run at large any longer they will be promptly locked up in the pound. Officer Harrigan has had his attention called to the ordinance and this notice, if heeded, will save the cat-owners some money.—New North November 5, 1931.

ONEIDA COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL

Institution Opened September 1910 With Three Students—
Growth and Success Has Been Remarkable—
Prospects Bright for the Future

Training School Building.

At a meeting of the County Board held September 13th, 1909 a resolution was adopted to organize in this county a school for the training of teachers for the rural schools. Superintendent F. A. Lowell had felt from the beginning of his term of office that the schools of the county were not accomplishing all that they might. Undoubtedly there were some local reasons for this state of affairs but the principal cause of the inefficiency of the country schools lay in the fact that the teachers were wholly untrained for their work. Try as hard as they might, they could not obtain really good results, because of this lack of training.

State Superintendent C. P. Cary accepted the proposition made by the County Board. As a result, a resolution was adopted November 9th, 1909 to appropriate a sum of money sufficient to carry out the plan of organizing the "Oneida County Training School for Teachers."

The problem of a home for the school was easily solved. The new courthouse erected by the county was nearly finished. The old court house could at a relatively small expense be remodelled into an ideal school house. The County Board therefore voted to turn this building over to the use of the school.

The law required that the affairs of the school be placed in charge of a board of three, one of them being the County Superintendent. At the session of the County Board held in November, 1909, the following men were elected to serve as the Training School Board: A. W. Brown, Arthur Taylor, and (ex-officio) Supt. F. A. Lowell.

This Board, which has proven to be unusually efficient, had at the very beginning of their term of office three highly important duties to perform: (1) to remodel the old court house into a suitable school house; (2) to choose a faculty; (3) to arrange a course of study.

The first of these duties they performed so well that State Superintendent C. P. Cary reported after inspection that the building is nearly ideal. The first floor contains two large and two small class rooms; the second floor contains a large assembly room and two classrooms; the basement contains rooms for Agriculture.

The course of study adopted by the Board was approved by the State Superintendent and except for some eight modifications is still in force. This course provides for two groups of students:

(1) Students who have finished the eighth grade of Country, City or Parochial schools;

(2) Students who have done at least two years of High school work. The first group takes a course of study extending over at least two years. On completing it the graduate receives a teachers' certificate good for three years. The second group takes a year's course of study and on completing it receives a certificate good for three years, if the graduate is not a High school graduate, or a five years'

Visiting Nurse, in giving a course of monthly lectures on hygiene. This is done to give teachers an opportunity to become acquainted with the best methods of caring for the bodies of their pupils, as well as their minds. From time to time as opportunity offers talks and lectures are offered to the students.

To sum up this account of the "Oneida County Teachers' Training School," this is the purpose of the school: "To train teachers for the district schools; to prepare them to test milk and cream for butterfat; to test seeds for purity and germination; to provide lectures for rural communities on invitation; to loan

I Offer For Sale the Following Partly Improved Farms

C. A. Fenton farm 4 1/2 miles from Rhinelander, on main road to Hat Rapids and to Crescent Flats; 160 acres nice level clay loam soil; house and barn and wagon sheds. Well situated with cross roads at corner-schoolhouse at that point. Some white pine and a good deal of white, birch popple and some hard woods on it. Luxuriant crop of grass on the 20 acres that is cleared. Price and terms very reasonable.

Emory Hamlin farm on Crescent Flats, 160 acres, crossed by Crescent creek, a fine clear water stream that never freezes and never overflows. Good large farm house said to have cost $1700.00—has hot air furnace. Large barn that will hold 100 tons of hay 25 to 50 cattle. Some other buildings. Place is mostly fenced and 100 acres are cleared. Nice little grove of pine timber furnishes lumber and fuel. Price and terms on application.

Joe McLaughlin farm 2 miles from city limits on main road. 80 acres on each side of road, Log buildings. Schoolhouse near farm buildings. About 80 to 100 acres under cultivation. This farm has always yielded good crops. Price and terms very reasonable.

In cut over lands I own about 8000 acres of land mostly in the west part of the county.

I own 70 acres on Soo Lake, 5 miles from the city, adjoining the new Cassian-Rhineland road. This is nice smooth land, free from stone and has very few stumps as the timber was hardwood and has been cut so long that it is well rotted out.

I own 80 acres on Bearskin River 1 1/2 miles from Harshaw which has enough fall to the water to make sufficient power for a grist mill. There is some timber on the land and it is all pretty smooth and free from stones.

I own 80 acres of land 1/2 mile from McNaughton very close to main wagon road. Will sell this at a bargain as I have no more land near there.

I offer a solid section and enough adjoining to make 1000 acres of good land west of Minocqua about 8 miles.

I offer a fine quarter section near Harshaw with some good timber. Horsehead creek crosses one forty and there is a large spring on another corner.

Any of the above are bargains. Prices on application. Terms very liberal.

DO YOU KNOW

That Mr. Edison has perfected a New Blue Edison Amberol Record, one that can be played 3000 times and still be a good record, and is unbreakable. The tone is much richer and better than ever. It will sell for 50 cents and will play about five minutes.

That I am selling Wax Edison Amberol Records for 35 Cents or 3 for $1.00, and Edison Standard Records for 21 Cents each. Well it is true, I am doing it under orders from the company to make room for the new stock of Blue Amberol Records.

Call and Hear the New Record

Mr. Edison will soon put on the market a wonderful new Disc machine with a diamond point and a mechanical feed that will take the friction off from the record and do away with the scratching sound and prolong the life of the record. But more about that later on.

SALE OF RED CROSS SEALS

The American Red Cross has already printed for the work over 85,000,000 seals and probably the edition will number 100,000,000 before the end of the campaign. Fully 10,000,000 pieces of advertising literature have already been sent out, several million more are being distributed from local and state agencies throughout the country. It is planned to make the campaign this year the largest that has ever been held. If the anticipations of the anti-tuberculosis workers are realized, no less than $400,000 will be obtained from the sale of Red Cross Seals. Practically all of the money remains in the state or city where the seals are sold, only a very small percentage of it is going to pay for the printing and distributing the seals and for the expense of running the campaign.

Work of Chemical Engineer.

Great is the debt that the new south owes to the chemical engineer, whose contributions are enumerated by a writer: "The utilization of the formerly wasted cotton seed in oil making and the employment of the pressed hulls as a cattle feed; the production of glycerin from cotton seed oil; the use of the vast clay and shale beds in brick and tile manufacture; and the opening up of deposits of phosphates and phosphate rock that yield commercial fertilizers. Through his experiments and advice the pine forests formerly destroyed in obtaining turpentine may now be saved, while lumber, as it has been pointed out that turpentine can be obtained from waste sawdust slabs and old trees or stumps cut down or blown down by storms. High grade oak ties for railroad use may be made to last longer than before and low grade lumber (such as loblolly pine) can be made as efficient as untreated oak by simply impregnating the timber with creosote oil, and it is now a thriving industry throughout the south."

"Going Out to See a Man."

Artemus Ward, about half through his lecture, announced a recess for fifteen minutes, so as to go out and "see a man." H. R. Tracey, a Washington editor, seeing an opportunity to improve upon the joke, sent these lines to the platform: "Dear Artemus: If you will place yourself under my guidance, I'll take you to 'see a man,' without crossing the street." A restaurant keeper at that time in Washington was named Aman, to whom Ward was taken, and found Aman luxuriating at the well-laden refreshment board. Everybody "caught on" to the phrase, and, getting up between the acts and "going out to see Aman" became contagious.

Oyster Can Change Its Sex.

At the Academy of Science in Paris recently Edmund Perrier, director of the Museum of Natural History, submitted a series of singular researches by M. Danton, who has discovered that the sex of an oyster often varies in the same subject without apparent cause.

Another fact ascertained by M. Danton is the triumph of femininity among oysters, the male being the forerunner and weaker sex, and as food conditions change for the better or worse, they transform themselves from one sex to the other.

Dairy Men Are The Most Prosperous Class of Farmers in Wisconsin To-day

There are Fewer Farm Mortgages among Dairy Farmers than any Class of Farmers in the United States

If Dairying pays in the high priced farm lands of Southern Wisconsin it ought to pay equally as well right here in Oneida county where we have the advantages of cheaper lands, better water and better clover and grass.

Oneida County Farmers have the Advantage of a higher market for their cream. The prices paid by the RHINELANDER CREAMERY & PRODUCE Co. during the past 3 years have averaged higher than that of any other Creamery buying cream in Northern Wisconsin.

We are the largest cash buyers of cream in the Northern part of the State and we receive cream from many farmers in Minnesota and in Michigan. If it pays these farmers to ship long distances to us it will surely pay Oneida County farmers to get more cows and to sell their cream to us.

We pay Cash for each can and you can have all the butter milk you care to take away
Cut out the hard slavish work of making dairy butter and

OUR LANDS FIND READY MARKET

C. P. Crosby Tells Why Oneida County Is Rapidly Being Settled

Two years ago if you mentioned Oneida county land to a prospective buyer you did not get much of a hearing. They all wanted another county then. But a change has come over them since and people are now as much interested to know about Oneida county as they are about any other place.

The railroad map of the county will show you one very good reason why people are ready to buy here.

They are in no case more than a few miles from a railroad or town. They have R. F. D. routes and will have more, as they are needed. We are building new highways to the west and northern parts of the county. A settler does not like to go off on a corner all alone; he likes to be within sight or hearing of a neighbor, and to be near enough to the railroad to hear the daily trains pass. Look at the map of this County and see how well we are served by the three great railroads the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago and Northwestern and branches, and the Soo line. Besides these the Robbins railroad will soon become a regular passenger and freight line. I doubt if there is a County in Northern Wisconsin so well served by railroads as this is.

Then another thing that has turned the attention of people to this region is the big purchase of lands made by L. Starks. They know that Mr. Starks understands his business and they know that he would not go into anything unless he could see that it would pay. The purchase last year of the Pine Lake farm was the starter and next came the purchase of the Menasha Woodworth tract of ten thousand acres and the starting of farming operations there and the clearing up of 500 acres this year. Now 500 acres is no small farm for Wisconsin and yet this is only a quarter of what they will have cleared and under cultivation a year from now. There will be two big steam stump pullers, the same as those that cleared land at the Oneida farms this year, and they will tear out and pile up the stumps very rapidly. The time is near at hand when men will own and operate these steam stump pullers just the same as they now operate threshers, going from place to place and clearing lands.

This is not a very "stumpy" region anyway and many farmers have assured me that they can pull and pile the stumps on their farms for about $5 per acre, with a common horse power machine. The wonder is that they don't do more of this and I think that they are showing more interest in this matter. More land was cleared and stumped in Oneida county this year than in any of the years since there were any farms. Farmers are finding out that they can make more money raising crops than they can taking road jobs or more, as they are needed. We are logging jobs and then hanging a building new highways to the west and northern parts of the county. The fact is no industrious farmer can afford to take jobs of this kind if it causes him to neglect his farm work. They are finding this out and what is better, they are DOING IT.

Two years ago all the potatoes that were hauled into Rhineland, and shipped out amounted to 18 cars. I venture to state that this fall there have been single weeks when more than 18 cars were loaded out of here, or at least put into storage. The 18 cars will amount this year to 300 cars and another year to a thousand.

People who have gone away from here in the last five or six years—to Canada, Oregon and other states are coming back to Wisconsin, to Oneida county, as they admit that they haven't found anything that suits them as well. With these coming back and an influx of new people from the South and East there is no reason why this county should not grow and prosper.

Transfers of land in Oneida county have been very large this year. At least 75,000 acres have passed from one owner to another and there are demands now for large tracts to be held for investment.

Prices have seen a steady increase, especially in sections where settlers are moving. The new high way to Cassian is going to attract a lot of people next spring. All the available land in and along there will be sold off by a year from now. This same thing will happen if other main roads are pushed through in other parts of the county. There is nothing more important than this if you want to get settlers.

One mighty good feature this year is the confidence that our home people are showing as to the future of this county. A few years ago whenever the government advertised the sale of some Indian reservation, away off somewhere, there would be a great rush from here as well as from else where to get some of it. Most of these were rather disappointing and people are not "biting" on that hook any more. They can see for themselves what Oneida county can and does raise and they are buying lands and making farms here. Our County Fair exhibits this year opened the eyes of a lot of them and next year it will be a still greater success. There is nothing like getting our people together so that district can vie with district and get up a little rivalry. The Town of Monico seems to be making a big start on Guernsey stock now but perhaps Enterprise will show what its name means another year and we know that Three Lakes is rapidly getting on the map in that line.

The year 1912 has certainly shown a great deal of progress for Oneida county and a few more like it will put us up in line with many counties in much older and more settled regions.

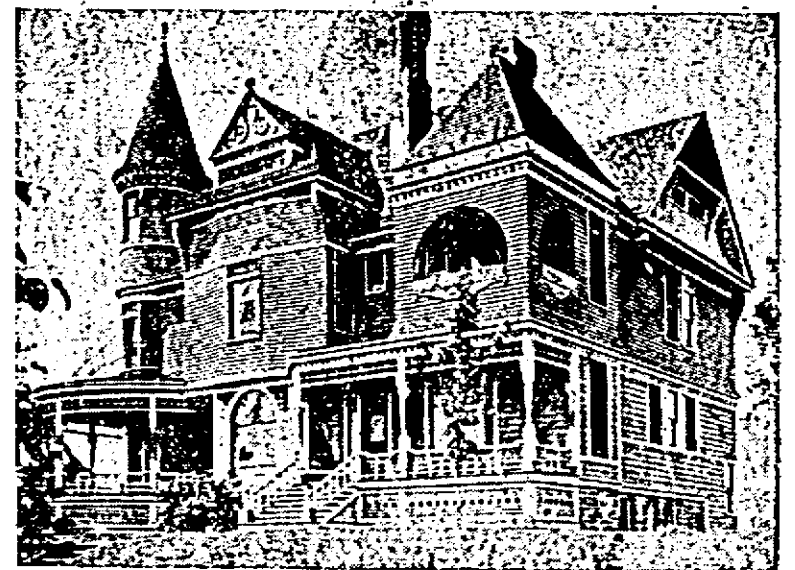

Our exhibit at the State Fair this year attracted more attention from its originality and general value than any other in the County Products Building. It is our way of advertising Oneida county and we hope that this will be kept up right along.

The professors of the University of Wisconsin are getting deeply interested in Oneida county and what it can raise. The railroads are doing their part, as witness the Stock Special, that came here last May. We had a good Farmers' Institute here last winter—the first we ever had and it was well attended. We are going to have more of them and get our people interested in live stock. Now our own Oneida county Agricultural Society was instrumental in getting these people here and that is one thing that our Society is good for besides running a County Fair once a year.

And by the way the County Fair was certainly a success this year in many ways and above all in point of attendance. If it does not draw a crowd then it is not successful in what it is intended to do and this year the crowd was there. The Fair was well advertised and postal cards were mailed to practically every farmer in the county besides the advertising that was put up everywhere. We aim to do still better another year.

In conclusion I will say that I think the future of Oneida county is ALL RIGHT and that there will be a wonderful change in the next four or five years. There will be many new faces on the streets by that time and a good many of the farmers now here will be bought out and will have moved away. This is a process that goes on everywhere else where a new farming district is forming and it will probably be the same here. We had a great many visitors here this year and many of them will be back next spring with money to buy lands and farms. What we want to do is to keep on advertising ourselves all we can and not let them forget us.

The Woman's Club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. One new member, Mrs. W. D. Brown, was elected to membership. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Cole read a paper upon Drorak, his life and works. Musical numbers consisting of solos, duets, violin solo and one song were rendered by Miss Dimick, Mesdames Hampton, Forbes and Lowell, Master Rheume, Miss McQueen and Mrs. Kimber. An interesting paper on the Bal-which are fast becoming known throughout the ENTIRE WORLD. Get in the same class as thousands are now doing.

The home of the MOST WONDERFUL and SCIENTIFIC REFRIGERATOR in the world

Housewives who have been trying to solve the ice problem will be interested in hearing about a new Refrigerator which is meeting with considerable success. The Refrigerator referred to is the Rhinelanders XYNO—a modern up-to-date Refrigerator with a solid One-Piece XYNO stone lining. This Refrigerator is manufactured in this immense plant.

The One-Piece lining is the distinguishing feature of this Refrigerator. The stone of which it is made is said to be as tough as steel, but it has very much the appearance of Porcelain, though unlike Porcelain it neither chips, checks nor discolors. This is a big item for the smooth and highly polished surface can thus be more easily kept sweet and clean and free from the accumulation of Germs—a danger that should most carefully be avoided.

Following the more expensive refrigerator construction, the corners of this lining are rounded—another feature promoting the ease with which the food receptacle may be kept clean. The shelves, ice-box and drip-pan of this refrigerator all slide out easily, giving free access to the interior and rendering all parts visible.

This Refrigerator has a system of circulation that is said to result in a substantial saving of ice. This Circulation is such that every section of the food receptacle is thoroughly refrigerated. This system not only maintains an extremely low temperature, which because of its dryness safeguards the food against germs, but it also means a decided economy in ice consumption. This, together with the low price of the Refrigerator, should make the Rhinelanders appeal strongly to those in the market for such a Refrigerator.

REPORT OF CITY SEALER DANFIELD

As Submitted By Him To The Members Of The Common Council

Rhinelanders, Wis., Nov. 30, 1912.
To the Hon. Mayor and Common Council:
Gentlemen:—

By order of Mr. F. P. Downing, chief inspector of weights and measures, Madison, Wis., I am directed to forward to your Honorable Body a true copy of a report forwarded to Madison containing a review of the work done in and from this office from March 25th, to Nov. 30th, 1912 which report you will please find hereto attached.

It has been suggested by the chief inspector to have a copy of the main issues of this report published in our official paper.

Very respectfully yours,
H. J. DANFIELD,
Sealer of W. and M.
Rhinelanders, Wis., Nov. 30, 1912.
Office of the City Sealer of Weights and Measures

The following is a computed report of work done, since this office was created. From the time we received the first part of the sealers' equipment, about June 1st, 1912, I have devoted at least forty hours of each week to the performance of the duties devolving thereon.

March 25th, April 2nd
Distributed copies of the laws and regulations, relating to weights and measures, to fifty-two firms and Corporations, in this city.

To the manager his or her agent, or clerk, I tried to direct attention to the most important rules pertaining to their business.

April 5th to April 8th
A letter from the chief inspector at Madison, directs me to caution dealers, selling hardware to purchase and sell only such scales and measures that does comply with the specification.

May 12th to 25th
Circular letters of May 9th, 18th, containing rules for the selling of berries in standard and non-standard capacity boxes, duly conveyed to all dealers handling fruit.

August 16th to Sept 5th
By earnest and impartial effort have I tried to bring into practical use all regulations issued from the chief inspector's office, relative to fruit containers, such as apple and cranberry barrels, boxes or baskets.

The sale of grapes, peaches, tomatoes, etc., should be in standard size containers only, or by the net weight plainly marked.

Rules governing those details explained to all dealers interested. Aug. 25th, requested to try out weights of loads of coal, from the different dealers, delivered to our citizens, and to report results at Madison and Rhinelanders.

Sept. 18th, State Department of weights and measures directs me to try out the weight per bushel of apples, of the different varieties, and forward results.

Also interested in obtaining data on the weight and price of loaves of bread from the bakery's here, with a view of securing a state law regulating the weight of the loaf.

Copies of the try out report will show the findings.

Special attention is invited to the report on areofdupols weights:

357 found correct and sealed. 63 adjusted and sealed. 27 condemned.

The weights adjusted were, by long use and misuse, found to be from 1-32 to 3-4 of one-ounce light some of them used on scales with a leverage of one to 100,200 or 500.

To illustrate—Assuming a 1 lb counterpoise weight is 1-4 oz. light used on a scale with a multiplying power of 100, on one load the shortage would be 25 ozs. at 25 loads a day the shortage would be 39 lbs.

If the price of the commodity is only two cents a lb. the error indicated in one day would amount to 78 cents.

The manager of a certain produce company in our city permits me to report the convincing result of having their wagon tested and corrected.

I found the scale to weigh 20 lbs heavy on each one-thousand lbs.

Over this scale the firm bought in the fall and winter of 1911 and 1912 900 tons of potatoes, during that season they paid for and did not receive 26,000 lbs, or 6,00 bushels at an average price of 55 cents per bushel, or a total loss to the firm of $330.00.

Separate exhibits of vouchers and try out test reports cover in detail what has been accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,
H. J. DANFIELD,
City Sealer.

The Rhinelanders Produce and Commission Co., requests me to make the following corrections regarding above report:

In going over your figures we find that your figures show the amount to be 600 bushels which would be correct had we used the scale when it was weighing 20 lbs too heavy on every thousand pounds of weight. This we did not do however, and all potatoes showed only the natural shrinkage of a little less than 2 percent.

We have several different methods of check weighing our stock, which will preclude the possibility of using defective scales for any length of time.

Yours Truly,
H. J. DANFIELD,
Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Miss Alma Liebenstein, formerly well known in this city, was married on Nov. 28 to Chas. F. Lenhardt at Los Angeles, where she will make her future home.

FIRST WRITE-UP OF RHINELANDER

Rhinelander is located in Range 9, Townships 36-37, Lincoln county, on the Wisconsin river, 25 miles north of Merrill, 145 miles from Oshkosh, and 255 from Milwaukee by rail. The soil, where the business portion of the town now rests is sandy, but good farming land is being opened up to the south and west which promise abundant yield.

Probably never before in the history of the Badger state has a town been laid out within its limits, that afforded the natural advantages for the manufacture of lumber, as can be found at Rhinelander. Not only does it hold tributary the vast timbered country lying adjacent to the Wisconsin river on the north, but it also possesses a boomage second to none in the state—a lake amply large enough to secure the safe storage of a hundred million feet of logs. In addition the river has a fall (Pelican Rapids) of twenty feet in a hundred rods and 20 feet in half a mile; a fine waterpower, which can be utilized at a far less expense than any on the river, the stream being quite narrow and the banks high.

The opening of this point is, almost wholly due to the efforts of the Milwaukee S. & W. Ry. Co. and Messrs. Brown of Stevens Point. The Ry. Co. with their characteristic energy and push completed their line to this place Sept. 20th, some ten weeks since, and are now running three regular trains per day; mail, express and accommodation.

The company have made the finest yards in the state; nearly completed an engine house that will stall four locomotives, and in a short time will have a commodious and nicely arranged passenger depot. Messrs. Brown own a considerable tract of land in this section of the country, and the present village site was included in their possessions. Mr. W. E. Brown, who represents and transacts all business for the firm at this point, has preserved a strict integrity and uprightness in his dealings, given universal satisfaction, and won the esteem of all.

Nearly all the lots in the first plat of the town are sold, and many ing on government lands north of town, have left for greener pastures "where the wicked (U. S. Marshall) cease from troubling etc."

Deacon Tibbetts of Antigo, visited the place a few days since, with a view to holding religious meetings at no distant day. Mr. Tibbetts we understand, has been doing a good work among the northern towns.

For downright perseverance and "git", the commercial traveller appropriates the whole bakery. No less than one to half a dozen visit Rhinelander daily and the average is increasing.

The President's message, the proverbial long winded and exhaustive treatise on governmental affairs, was published Tuesday. We have come to the conclusion that either the President has not been away from home or read the papers, or he has an interest with the Merrill Boom Co. else he would not have omitted an account of Rhinelander's future national importance.

The tool house near the Soo depot was burned early Thursday morning, causing considerable damage.

D. J. Cole has rented the house formerly occupied by S. H. Bowman and will move his family here from Grand Rapids soon. They will be welcome additions to Rhinelander society.—New North, Oct. 2, 1890.

Labor is exceedingly scarce in Rhinelander. It is hard to get men to work and the wages are good in all cases. The waterworks company will soon want a crew of one hundred fifty men to work on the pipe laying.—New North, Sept. 25, 1890.

It is a pleasant feature in a walk about our city to notice the improvements that are constantly being made in the dwellings of our citizens. The new houses are to be found in all parts of the city. The largest and most expensive house now in course of construction is that of Chris Eby on Oneida Avenue.—New North, Aug. 21, 1890.

Leave orders at Kirk's Candy Kitchen.

A. N. Ingle, an elongated specimen of the genus homo, was seen on our streets yesterday and today. He serves as a specialty man for the Barrister cigar, travelling with L. G. Glaser of John Hoffman & Sons.

Mr. Ingle's longitudinal dimension is 7 ft. 2 in., but this is enhanced considerably by wearing a plug hat. Beside this human sky scraper, Al Lytle, our local living flag pole, looks like a South African pigmy.

PRIZES FOR XMAS SEAL SELLERS

Many Valuable Gifts Will Be Awarded By Association

Everything from a school building to the pupils wearing apparel is included in the open air school offered by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association to city of ten thousand population or above making the highest per capita sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals.

This prize which was announced today by Campaign Manager, Otto F. Bradley, is not only the most unique but probably the most valuable ever offered in a Christmas Seal Campaign.

The most important item of the equipment, all of which has been donated to the association, is the house. The Kenyon Cottage Company of Waukesha have offered to give a building suited for the purpose. The sides of the main room are open, but can be closed in case of a storm and a smaller cloak room which will be heated.

The desks have been donated by the American Seating Company, of Chicago, the cooking range by the Brand stove Company and the cups, plates and other dishes by the Frankfurth Hardware Company of Milwaukee. Other articles of the equipment are mackinaw's pajama suits, felt boots, mittens, warm caps and coats.

Three open air schools are now in operation in Wisconsin, two of them having been won as prizes in former Christmas Seal Campaigns and one having been established by the Milwaukee Schools. This is the first prize to include the building, however, former ones only including the equipment.

John LaPage was in from Brown Bros. camp Saturday.

F. A. Hildebrand has received a costly new dead wagon for the conveyance of corpses.

For Sale—Residence property in all parts of the city. Barnes-Weesner Agency.

Get your engraved calling cards for Holiday gifts now at the New North office. What nicer present can you give than 100 beautifully engraved cards and plate?

T. C. Wood has returned from Milwaukee where he attended meetings of the retail coal dealers of Wisconsin and Illinois and the retail implement dealers of Wisconsin.

Milan R. Sutcliffe, a former resident of this city, is doing nicely in the lumber business at Park Falls. He deals in wholesale and commission lumber and attends promptly to all orders.

AROUND THE CIRCLE

Chas. Jewell departed for Chicago Wednesday where he will visit friends and also will stop off at Milwaukee and New London to visit relatives before returning home.

Early Monday morning fire destroyed the farm residence of Mrs. C. R. Knuth near Crescent Creek, together with a portion of the furniture. The origin of the fire is not definitely known but when Mrs. Knuth came in from the barn after attending to part of her farm chores she found the house filled with smoke and had some difficulty in getting the children out of the dense smoke. She had just recently leased her farm for a term of years and was preparing to move to Morley, where she expects to reside for a while, and departed for there Thursday.

Dave Gustavson came over from Gagen to spend Sunday with his family and to look after his farm affairs. Dave has leased the Knuth farm for a term of years in connection with his own which joins and expects to show them all where to get off at next season in the agricultural line.

Bruce Cook departed for the "Timber" Monday where he expects to put in the winter harvesting the log crop.

Mrs. T. P. Hagen returned from Welcome, where she has been spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fenton.

Emil Gilmore returned from the lower country the latter part of last week.

Miss Sarah Swanson spent the Sabbath in the city with her parents.

Joe and Ed. Cuenan are in the wood business exclusively this winter and are doing some "stunts" in that line.

The regular meeting of Crescent Grange met in their hall Saturday evening for the election of officers: which were as follows:

Master—W. P. Jewell
Overseer—Chester Jewell
Steward—Alfred B. Cole
Lecturer—Mrs. McIntosh
Gate Keeper—Harry Bowles
Chaplain—Ms. W. B. Ames
Treasurer—Walter Kerber
Secretary—W. B. Ames
Asst. Steward—J. Byers
Lady Asst. Steward—Laura Kerber
Pomona—Grace McLaughlin
Musician—Mae Frawley

KINDS OF ADVERTISING

Upon embarking in business the first problem that faces the merchant is how to get customers. He starts out after business. That is advertising. He personally solicits trade or adopts some other means of advertising his business. But one thing is certain, if any business is ever built up it is built up through the medium of advertising. Every business man must admit this, or why not start a business under ground and the proprietor sit down waiting for trade to come to him? A store well kept in a good location stocked with good goods at reasonable prices is an advertisement. A merchant cannot hide his light under a bushel and be a success. He must advertise.

There are various ways of advertising, and for the sake of convenience and in the order of their importance we give them here:

1st Personal Advertising—Where the merchant personally solicits business.

2nd Personal Letter Advertising—Where the merchant writes personal letters to stimulate business.

3rd Newspaper Advertising—Where through the newspaper the merchant gives business news each week to thousands.

4th Circular and Other Advertising—Where through circulars, bills, bill boards and all other means of publicity effort is made to influence the trading public.

There is no denying the advantage to a merchant in personally soliciting business, either visiting prospective customers, personally or writing them personal letters. These are very effective ways of advertising. Newspaper advertising is the next best means of advertising and, price considered, it is by far the best advertising.
